REFERENDUMS ON BALLOT

Six to Vote On, Princeton voters and their neighbors in other New Jersey communities will be faced with six state-wide public questions when they enter the voting booth on November 5.

Two of the six concern that over-riding issue, the $750 million bond issue. The other four involve residence requirements for voting, veterans' and over-65 property tax adjustments and farm land assessment. TOWN TOPICS urges a "No" vote on the two bond issue questions and suggests a "Yes" vote on the other four.

Bond Issue. "New Jersey should have been thrown in jail for lacking visible means of support," said a Princeton University economics expert commenting on the bond issue. Although the state is sixth in per capita personal income, it is 42nd in money spent for higher education, in state aid to local schools and health expenditures and 48th in money spent for highways and public welfare.

Last January, a bi-partisan Commission on State Tax Policy recommended a sales tax to raise all the money New Jersey needs, but Governor Richard Hughes devised a bond-issue proposal because he didn't think the legislature would be willing to vote any broad-base tax, either income or sales, for many years.

The bond issue will appear on the ballot in two parts:

1. $475 million for roads and highways, with a maximum interest of $370 million.

2. $275 million for the construction of public buildings with a maximum interest of $215 million.

The $750 million would be sold in five annual installments, and the resulting $150 million a year would be used for education, institutions and highways. The bonds would be paid off by using tolls collected by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority after 1972, when the Turnpike's present bonded debt has been paid.

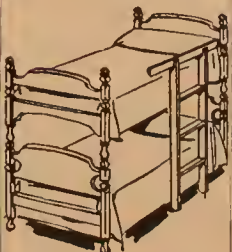

The money would be used:

• To pay for $420 million and costly improvements as time goes by?

In the second place, there is the question of financing. The plan could cost $1 billion, $335 million; the bond issue plus $585 million interest, to achieve only $420 million in new construction and $250 million in new state school aid.

In the third place, there is no real way to guarantee what, specifically, the money will actually be spent for because all the funds resulting from the bond issue will be apportioned and appropriated by the legislature. In the standard way.

This is an argument that can be used two ways: Governor Hughes points to the legislature hand on the reins as proof, and says "It is not true that there will be no control over the way in which this money will be spent."

Pros and cons on the bond issue have been vocal in the past two months. Organizations opposing it include the State Chamber of Commerce, the League of Women Voters (see Mailbox, page 23), the Jaycees, the State Federations of District Boards of Education, the PTA, real estate boards, the AAA, the Keystone Automobile Club, the New Jersey Bankers Association, the American Association of University Women, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Lumnor Hughes points to the legislature hand on the reins as lives that New Jersey's educational needs are so great that the state may well need both the bond issue and some form of broad-based tax to meet them all.

Merchants Association, the New Jersey Manufacturers Association, the grange and the Automobile Legal Association. Lined against the PTA and the District Boards of Education is the New Jersey Education Association, which urges support of the issue. The N.J.E.A. has released a statement from Mrs. Marie Katzenbach of Princeton, president of the State Board of Education, who said, "Since a broad-based tax will undoubtedly take several years to accomplish and since our educational needs are so pressing, the bond issue represents the only practical way of providing help for education without further delay."

Meyner Not in Favor. One who has not committed himself on either side, but whose non-committal alliance speaks for itself, is former Governor Robert Meyner, a Princeton householder who casts his ballot in Phillipsburg. Governor Meyner has been speaking on the bond issue to various groups throughout the state, "and I always look at it from both sides."

The former governor suggested in an interview with TOWN TOPICS this week that voters study the bond issue carefully, asking themselves in particular how much how spending is actually involved—the $420 million The rest comes out of the current budget.

Governor Meyner thinks voters might ask themselves what, precisely, the money will be used for? New college buildings, grade crossings and the like, have been put forward, but Governor Meyner warns that this is all very complicated, and that probably not even legislators themselves could say what the various items might be.

"Some people, of course, say 'This is not a good way, but it's the only way,' the former governor comments, "and may, he is. You can't terminate a project once you start it, and at the end of the five years, there will have to be some other source of support."

The alternative sources of support seem to be either an income or a sales tax. The League of Women Voters favors an income tax as the fairest way of distributing the load among differing economic levels. Many business and farm organizations would like a sales tax New Jersey had a brief foray with a sales tax in 1936. It was annulled after only a year.

The economist quoted in an earlier paragraph says, "I am tired of the unwillingness of this state to face up to its problems. How can we project ahead to 1972, when we will have a much larger population and heavier expenses? To postpone a broad-based tax is only temporizing."

Farm land. The next question on the ballot would amend the state constitution so that land actually used for farming can legally be assessed according to its value as farm land, and not at its market value for commercial, industrial or residential purposes. If communities are required to tax farm property for more than it can earn through agriculture, so the "pro" argument runs, farms will gradually disappear because farmers won't be able to afford them. The "con" argument points out that a farmer could farm his land and pay low taxes on it, then sell to a developer for whatever he could get, and come out nicely ahead.

Veterans' Property Tax. This constitutional amendment would give veterans a $50 cash deduction from property tax bills instead of the present $500 from assessments. The measure would serve to even out the deduction, making it about the same in all communities, instead of varying widely, as now.

Over-65 Property Tax. Following the same formula, this amendment would give homeowners over 65 an $80 deduction from tax bills instead of the $800 deduction from assessments, as now.

Residence Requirements. Under this constitutional amendment, residence requirements for voting in presidential and vice-presidential elections would be shortened. People who move out of New Jersey would be allowed to vote here as absentees until they are eligible in their new state.

As reported above, TOWN TOPICS recommends support of all four of these referendum funds.

"FRAUD" CHARGED

On GOP By-Pass Claim. Robert W. van de Velde, President of the Princeton Democratic Club, said this week in an open letter to Borough residents that Princeton Republicans are endangering the proposed Route 206 By-Pass through their campaign claims.

Mr. van de Velde asserts that under a gentleman's agreement, the proposed link between Routes 206 and 33, east of Hightstown, was not to be a matter of party politics. He charges the Princeton Republican Club with having violated this understanding, and with possible delay of the long-needed artery.

Excerpts from his statement follow:

I charge the Princeton Republican Club with wilfully misleading the public and with endangering the chances of our getting a highway By-Pass because of their advertisement entitled "Promise and Performance No. 3" appearing in your last issue. For them to claim credit for progress on Route 206-A is a fraud, and to make the claim publicly is a reckless violation of a gentleman's agreement.

The facts are these, and I know them because I have been heavily involved in them for several years. For the By-Pass to become a reality, three steps are necessary:

1. Approval of the need for the road and establishment of the alignment by the State Highway Department;
2. An Act by the State Legislature declaring the road to be a limited-access freeway;
3. Inclusion in the State budget of funds to build the road.

Many people, of both parties, have worked for a number of years to persuade the Highway Department of the vital need for the road. These efforts came to a climax at a large meeting assembled at the University in March 1962.

President Goheen invited all the elected officials of all the municipalities which would be affected by the Princeton-Hightstown By-Pass. State officials, both elected and appointed, and representatives of the major local institutions. Several participants stressed the need for a non-partisan approach to what was now to become a coordinated effort.

Some Progress Made. The Highway Department, obviously, now more favorably impressed of the need for the By-Pass, held a public hearing in Dayton in May 1962. Again, the tone and flavor was non-partisan. However, South Brunswick Township and Kingston Trap Rock Co. displayed some discontent, the former wanting the road, the latter not wanting it, to go through their respective areas.

In January 1963, State Assemblymen Farrington, Panaro and Sweeney, Mercer County Democrats, succeeded in introducing A-153. As sponsors of this bill they were later joined (by resolution) by Assemblyman Bateman, Somerset Republican. This bill passed the Assembly on 11 February and went to the Senate the same day. It was still locked up in the Senate's Republican caucus because Senate President Ozzard, Republican of Somerset, apparently wants assurance the road will not go over Trap Rock land.

Last spring the temptation to make campaign issues of Democratic positive action and Senator Ozzard's negative action was a strong one. The Princeton Democratic candidates (State and Borough) decided, however, that the By-Pass was more important to Princeton than a political issue was to the Democrats. They instructed me, as President of the Democratic Club, to telephone the President of the Republican Club, Fred Schluter Jr.

This I did, and made the following offer. We Democrats, I said, would refrain from taking any partisan credit for progress on 206-A in the coming campaign, provided the Republicans would also not try to exploit what part they had had in the process then hanging in delicate balance.

I said that if the bill passed the Senate, or if Senator Ozzard succeeded in completely killing it, then we would assume all wraps were off and no holds were barred to make political capital of such alternative possibilities. Mr. Schluter at first professed to see nothing "political" in the situation, but later agreed to inform his candidates of the Democratic offer. As no word has since come to me or our candidates, we have conducted our campaign without one word of the years of work by Democrats, in and out of office, on the By-Pass proposal, without one word on the persuasive work by the Chairman of the State and County Democratic Committees, without one word about the Democratic Governor's role or that of his Highway Commissioner in pushing the project to the point it has now reached.

State Highway Commissioner Dwight Palmer told Mr. Farrington last spring that he saw no bar to commencing work in 1963-64, and he included funds for such work in his budget for this year. In view of Senator Ozzard's recalcitrance, despite our present Mayor's personal appeal to him, the Highway Commissioner has recently said publicly that the 206-A By-Pass project cannot be started this year.

A great many men of good-will have spent hundreds of man-hours on this matter. For the Borough Republican candidates now to claim "performance" is not only ridiculous, it is as preposterous as it is false.

In an election statement this week on the bypass, Mayor Henry Patterson said "Senator Ozzard is NOT opposed to it. This fact was clearly stated in the report that Mr. Gemmell and I gave to the press after our meeting with the Senator last spring. Nothing has happened in the meantime to change the statement I made then that a satisfactory alignment will be arrived at during 1963."

Round-Up

Tuesday was a special day for longtime Princeton resident D. Merzhon Green. It was his 103rd birthday, and by 10 a.m. he had already received two cakes with a third scheduled for delivery in the evening.

Mr. Green was "in fine fettle and high spirits," reported a nurse at the Odd Fellows Home in Trenton, where he now lives. The year Mr. Green was born was the one during which Abraham Lincoln was elected president — and one year prior to the outbreak of the Civil War.

Underlining Governor Hughes' declaration of an emergency condition through out the state because of the danger of brush and forest fires, Mayor Patterson emphasized at his press conference on Tuesday that the lighting of outdoor fires is prohibited until further notice. This must certainly apply to leaf fires on private property and to backyard barbecues as well.

Similarly Governor Hughes has ordered all forests, woodlands and parks closed until sufficient rain ends the emergency. And a notice from Stuart C. Morgan Jr., general manager of the Institute for Advanced Study, backs this up by stating that the Institute's woods have been closed to all persons associated with the Institute and to the general public as well until the hazard is cleared out.

Despite the severe drought and threats of water shortage afflicting a third of the nation, Princeton's water supply is in good shape. Mayor Patterson reports. The new filtration beds and approval to take as much as one million gallons of water from the canal plus an additional million gallons per day if needed at the present time have continued to make the Princeton Water Co.'s liquid assets ample.

Fire hearing held worked over the Nassau Inn's cloak room last Saturday night. It was unattended. Mrs. J. George Ramm reported a cloak case taken. Mrs. Mary K. Suedeker had an $800 cloak case taken and Mrs. Vivian Conover reported the loss of a $150 mink stole.

gineering Quadrangle. Its assessed value $750.

The crater being hammered out of the middle of Nassau Street at the head of University Place this week further complicated the traffic problem at that busiest intersection.

But it was all for a good reason. Public Service was hounding for the source of a hard-to-find gas leak.

The job was tougher than expected because almost directly under the street paving the drillers ran into a mass of huge boulders. Even so the work will be completed in a few days, according to Arnold Ryden of the Borough Engineering Department.

Should high school officials seek to restrict the manner in which their pupils dress? Princeton High School students are somewhat divided on the subject. — See Question of the Week page 21.

Numerous reasons for installing a Democratic administration in Borough Hall are advanced in this week's "Why I Plan to Vote" series by Kenneth Lake of a Greenholm former New York Times correspondent now serving as a consultant to the Peace Corps. The Republican record is backed by Frederic M. Englund, 6 Madison Street attorney and former assistant Mercer County prosecutor.

The proposed Route 200 Bypass is in danger of being seriously delayed by Borough Republicans who broke a gentleman's agreement not to play politics with the issue. — See editorial Democratic Club.

The visit Monday of Yugoslav President Tito. Approval of plans for a new business and office building on Route 200. — See a month's elating of a Birch Avenue law suit for after-hours violation.

THE CLAN TYRONE: Eugene O'Neill's autobiographical play, "Long Day's Journey Into Night" will be played, uncut, by the cast that presented it this summer in Williamstown, Mass. Portraying the four members of the Tyrone (i.e., O'Neill) family, will be (left to right) Olympia Dukakis as Mary Tyrone; Michael Ebert as Edmund Tyrone; James Noble as James Tyrone Jr. and Louis Zorich as James Tyrone.

fevel of O'Neill's "Strange Interlude." He was also with Judith Anderson in "Medea." Tom Brennan of the Williamstown production will direct the O'Neill for the McCarter stage, and William D. Roberts will design the set.

THOSE OLD-TIME SONGS

Hootenanny's Counting, McCarter's own long day's journey into night will end at midnight this Friday when the O'Neill drama moves into the wing and the New Lost City Ramblers take over. The midnight hootenanny with the Ramblers is the third in McCarter's special fall series of midnight programs. Tickets are on sale at the theatre box-office.

The New Lost City Ramblers, specialize in old-time "lost and forgotten" songs, among which they include songs from the depression, prohibition and moonshine eras, and if "old-time" as applied to the depression and prohibition eras outrages your dignity, you're probably too old for a hootenanny, anyhow.

Joining the Ramblers on the McCarter stage will be Bonnie Dobson, a Canadian singer whose voice has often been compared to Joan Baez' for its purity, range and texture. Tom Rush, the folksinger, will also appear. Rush has combined a Harvard education with folk-singing for several years, and Princeton men can make what they like out of that kind of moonlighting. Miss Dobson sings Anglo-American songs of love, passion and remorse, combined with French-Canadian songs of love, passion and remorse.

HORRORS!

Spook Show at McCarter. A two-headed bill will be shown next Wednesday at McCarter in honor of Halloween. Two classics from the horror school of film making — one of them in "living," if that's the word, color — will be given at 8 p.m.

Mystery being in season at this time of the year, it is probably fitting that McCarter is not allowed to divulge, in the public press, the names of the two movies. If you're on the mailing list or if you've seen a McCarter program, you know already Otherwise — guess!

Single admissions will be available at the door for this "film bonus" event. "The Bicycle Thief," which can indeed be publicized, will be the second film in the Fall Classic Film Series at McCarter.

PUPPETEER COMING

From Russian Show Sergei Obratsov, the celebrated Russian puppeteer, will give a one-man performance in McCarter Theatre on Saturday, November 9, at 2:30 through special arrangement with S. Huruk.

Obratsov's Russian Puppet Theatre is now in New York fulfilling a six weeks' engagement under the cultural exchange program. During his stay in the United States, Obratsov will make only two one-man appearances, the one scheduled for McCarter and one in Cambridge, Mass.

For his one-man show

Obratsov will use his own single puppet creations, and will leave behind the 19 man puppet staff he has in New York. He is fluent in English and will give his own commentary. The show is so designed that children will be delighted and adults charmed according to the McCarter management. It is not the standard children's puppet show that sends adults off to sleep. Obratsov is the founder and artistic director of the Russian Puppet Theatre and has been a puppeteer for more than 40 years. Tickets have been priced at $2, $2.50 and $3.

for good and sufficient reason, hung their strongest set of cliché adjectives "Compelling" and "Powerful." The book is that, for sure — it's an unusually agitating and frightening okay, they're cliché too, fable of a group of British boys crash-landed on an uninhabited island where, without adult guidance, they progressively abandon their playing-fields-of-Old-Knoll politeness and revert to utmost savagery.

The book is often erroneously cited as similar to "Catcher in the Rye." It isn't, except that like "Catcher" it has caught the well-merited fancy of the young, and the not-so-young, as a superb novel of children in conflict with themselves, each other and the outside forces of man and a world in which they find themselves. "Flies" is a disturbing, altogether fascinating story, an allegory of pure, unrelenting realism.

Peter Brook's film study of "Flies" is bound to raise controversy, depending on whether or not you read the original. If you haven't read it, chances are you'll find it a skilful, tightly-edited and thoroughly absorbing movie.

If you have read it, you'll find it either a chillingly accurate account of the ominous life and death of children abandoned on the island or you'll write it off as a kind of sub-tropical boys' town showing how cub scouts without decent mothers might misbehave. One thing's for sure: there'll be no so-so reaction to it.

In an estimable attempt to avoid the embarrassingly cute Freddie Bartholomew school of child actors ("But, si-l-r, my Nanny says so.") and the Shirley Temple "Good-Ship Lollipop" gambit, Director Brook corralled some 40 young unknowns (four from Princeton, incidentally) to make the film and used a freehand, loosely-scripted method for guidance.

Tom Goman, a student at Princeton Country Day School,

McCartier Up 165%

There are six times as many undergraduates this fall as there were last spring on the subscription list at McCartier Executive Director Arthur Lithgow, in making this announcement, also said that regular adult subscriptions for fall are up 165 percent over last spring.

McCartier's series is designed to serve undergraduates as a "living library" of the theatre, and so the increased spurt of interest on the part of students is particularly welcome.

In the 12-day period from October 5 to 17, almost 9,000 paid to see 11 different performances of music, drama and film. Six were "virtual sellouts" — "Six Characters in Search of an Author," William Mawel's piano recital, two presentations of "Hedda Gabler," flamenco guitarist, Montoya and "Brecht on Brecht."

plays one of the leading roles — that of Simon, Three other members of the cast, who were students at Valley Road when the movie was made, are Andrew, Richard and Timothy Horne, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Horne.

"Flies" is one you should see, if for no other reason than to have a chance to discuss its merits or possible demerits afterwards.

PRINCE AND PLAYHOUSE

Lawrence of Arabia (Final week) is an account, in settings of superb natural beauty, of an odd little Britisher who, in World War I, developed an adoptive affection for Arabia and fought hard and well to free it from the Turks. The film representation of his adventures is much more than just the Middle East horse-opera (or, in this case, camel-opera) it might have been — it is a faithful and absorbing chronicle of Lawrence's derring-do on the vast sandpile of the Arabian desert.

One trifle, three-letter word probably best describes the movie: BIG. The desert (really the central character of the film) is magnificent and endless, the movie, a $10 million piece of change, is also magnificent in many respects and not quite endless — four hours including a 20-minute oasis stop for the audience.

The film-makers chartered a fleet of some 1,500 camels and horses, 5,000 spear-headers, and six stars: Alec Guinness, Anthony Quinn, Jack Hawkins, Jose Ferrer (Princeton '33), Claude Rains and Arthur Kennedy. Peter O'Toole plays Lawrence, an enigmatic bloke to everyone including himself, called everything from "one of the greatest beings alive in our time" by Winston Churchill to an erratic, masochistic, libidinous switch-hitter by detractors.

"Lawrence of Arabia" is no shoot-'em-up quickie filmed in Southern California. It's a vivid spectacle of a vividly spectacular place and time in history.

IT'S NEW To Us

THREE, NOT OF A KIND

Fur, Yarn and Film. Want a fur spider? An endearing little leopard to take to bed? An entrancing photographic portrait of your toddler? A yarn tapestry to fill a wall? Here, as the saying goes, you are.

Three widely different talents will be on display at 150 Mercer Street starting Monday and continuing through Friday, November 1.

The fur animals come from the creative mind and hand of Mab Ashforth Goldman, who takes rabbit fur, either natural or "printed," and makes hats, children's toys and mysterious little pouches to hold treasures.

You'll look more than once at Mrs. Goldman's "Charlotte," a 20-inch long spider (from "Charlotte's Web," you know) with a quizzical expression and a pair of white fur stripes around her rabbit-grey head. Six floppy grey fur legs fold languorously around her as she lies tossed on bed or chair.

The little leopard we mentioned above (well, his rabbit fur is tawny with black spots, so that makes him a leopard) is about eight inches long with black-masked face, an exact model from Rousseau's famous dream painting. This warm and friendly beast holds within him the works for Brahms' "Lullaby," and without a bulge, too. A fat cat, like the ones children draw, has a long tail, green (felt) eyes and a paler grey fur back.

But not all of Mrs. Goldman's skill with fur goes into

THE MANY FORMS OF ART: Three talented women will display their abilities next week at a public exhibition at 150 Mercer Street. Ann Wiseman Denzer (left) embroiders tapestries; Mab Ashforth Goldman (center) makes beguiling little fur animals, and Kathleen Blumenfeld (right) takes charming informal photographs of children. animal husbandry. She has also made some draw-string pouches, simple rectangles of fur about five inches long, with a contrasting border which makes the "ruffle" when you draw the string. We liked a black sheared "beaver" and a small, curly goat-skin, almost square. You could keep a silver dollar inside.

There are also fur hats, for children or adults, one a white fur cooler, another a black-brown striped peak to shed the wind on a bitter day. All these—hats, pouches, kittycats, are one of a kind.

Our second talent belongs to Ann Wiseman Denzer who is showing her tapestries, doll houses and water-colors of Italy and France.

babies, one taken between the bars of a playpen, another showing a very young daughter laughing and content in her father's lap. "I'm very good with children and fathers," Mrs. Blumenfeld laughs. "Most photographers specialize in mothers!"

BOIL ME AN EGG

In Sheffield, Please. Our morning egg has got to be boiled from now on in the eight-inch-tall egg boiler we found at The Silver Shop on Palmer Square. It's a fluted ovoid (naturally enough) set above a tiny alcohol burner. Lift off the top and discover therein a rack for four eggs. Insert the eggs, pour in the water, light the burner, close the cover, let the eggs cook gently to your taste, and there you are! From the tables of England in 1870.

Meanwhile, you have kept your tea in an oval Sheffield caddy (1780) with garland

MUSIC In Princeton

VIOLIN TO STAR
With Orchestra: A composition for solo violin accompanied by flute, clarinet and string orchestra will occupy the featured place on the program when the Princeton Symphony Orchestra gives its first concert of the season on Monday at 8:30. The concert will be presented in McCarter Theatre.

"Concerto da Camera" is the work of Noel Sokoloff, Princeton resident, who teaches composition and theory at Mannes College of Music in New York where he was himself a student. His composition will be played by Joseph Kovacs, concertmaster of the Princeton Symphony for the past 13 years, and a member of the faculty at Douglass College and Westminster Choir College.

The concerto is a departure for Mr. Sokoloff who has been working primarily on operas for the past five or six years. A long act opera based on Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter" with libretto by Nancy Sokoloff, the composer's wife, is nearing completion. Mr. Sokoloff has also written two one act operas, three string quartets, a piano trio, a wood wind quintet and several orchestral works. His music has been performed at Mannes College and also at the New Hampshire Festival.

The Princeton Symphony's program will also include the Mozart Concerto for Two Pianos.

FOUND ONE LOST CITY: The New Lost City Ramblers will bring guitar, banjo and vocal chords to McCarter this Friday night for a hootenanny and a fall roundup generally. The New Lost City Ramblers specialize in songs of the depression and moonshine era—way back when.

on K 363, with Louise Strunsky and Malcolm Peyton as soloists, and the Dvorak Cello Concerto with David Wells as soloist.

THEY'RE ANTIQUE

Instruments in Concert: The cittern and the pandora, the lute and the viol will join with the flute and the guitar when the Julian Bream Consort plays in McCarter Theatre. The concert will be given by the consort at 8:30.

Elizabethan music for ancient instruments and voice will come from the works of Byrd, Dowland, Phillips, Allison, Robinson and Campion. The Consort's first recording of Elizabethan music has just been released by RCA.

Julian Bream appeared in McCarter during the 1961-62 season in a solo lute and guitar recital. He is regarded by many critics as heir apparent to the throne of the great Segovia.

OPENINGS AVAILABLE

In Midland Choral: The Midland Choral, a volunteer singing group, is seeking members to participate in its activities.

The Choral meets each Tuesday at 8:15 in the Griggs town Reformed Church to sing religious and secular music. The only prerequisite for membership is the desire to sing, according to the group's director Seymour Weinstein.

Mr. Weinstein said the organization is interested in adding tenors, basses and sopranos to the choral. Those interested should contact Mrs. Doris Bowman at AN 7-9405.

In addition to Mercer County members represent Middlesex and Somerset. The choral plans to hold two public concerts yearly, one at Christmas and the other in the spring.

The 1961 spring concert will include an original work by Princeton composer Frank Lewin. Mr. Lewin writes background music for the television shows "The Defender" and "The Nurses."

Long, Long Ago

Antiques, quite apart from their intrinsic charm, serve to remind us delightfully of the way things were "when." It goes without saying, of course, that people used candles in candlesticks when there was no other means of illumination, but other and less obvious household objects also bring to mind a changing pattern of life.

Look at The Silver Shop's collection of English Sheffield and silver pieces, for example. How did one cook a breakfast egg when there was no such thing as an electric stove? How did a guest manage the rough, brown, unrefined sugar of the 18th century, so different from our finely sifted white sugar? How did one keep precious tea, not only fresh, but out of the sly hand of the servants in the pantry?

(And what, one asks, will be sold as an amusing antique from our own day? This exquisite little swizzle stick...)

Mrs. Herman W. Henk of Somerville, to Edward J. Lubas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lubas of Belle Meade, October 5, Mary, Mother of God Church, Hillsborough.

Hajdu-Nemeth — Salopek. Mrs. Margaret A. Salopek of Belle Mead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Apsel of Flemington, to Nicholas Hajdu-Nemeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou-Hajdu-Nemeth of Somerset, September 7, Mary, Mother of God Church, Hillsborough.

It's New To Us

design and open space for a monogram. This caddy once had a key so that contents could be secure, very secure. But things were no different in 1780 from what they are now, and so the key got lost and you'll have to keep your tea under lock, without key.

The tea set at Silver Shop is from 1875, a squat pot shaped rather like Aladdin's lamp, with oiled wood handle, matching creamer and sugar.

Sugar takes us back to the 18th century again—about 1798—where we find slim little perforated spoons by G. Smith of London, designed as sugar sifters, some with bigger holes for really stubborn sugar. Tongs, too, in English silver, from 1796-1808.

Waiters abound at Silver Shop. The most impressive is an oval pair, footed, with crest, Sheffield, 1800, and a border that's part beaded, part Gadroon. Another single waiter, 12 inches across, is from 1780, simple as can be with tiny beaded border and three feet.

Other treasures include a toddy ladle from the Edinburgh of 1826, made with licorice-stick handle of darkly twirling whalebone, a pair of etched silver open salts from 1789, a splendid serving spoon from 1726, long, slender and deliciously elegant, and a pair of Sheffield telescope candlesticks which extend from eight to about 12 inches.

BRIDES!

Lenox Awaits You. A new bridal room and gift registry has opened in Trenton at the retail shop of Lenox China Company on Prince and Meade Streets.

Here, in an attractive wood-paneled room, a bride may confer with a Bridal Consultant on ways to match silver, china and crystal, and then record her preferences so that friends can drop in at the shop, examine the record and choose the pattern the bride herself has chosen.

In addition to Lenox china, the shop will carry a full range of silver patterns by Gorham and Towle and crystal by Fostoria. Each girl who registers will receive a little china swan inscribed "To the Bride" as a gift from Lenox.

The retail shop is open Monday through Friday from 9 to 5 and Saturdays from 9 to 3.

ROSTROPOVICH PLAYS
Celloist Heard in McCarter
Tuesday night in McCarter Theatre, Series II began with a recital by Mstislav Rostropovich, artistically accompanied by Alexander Dedukhin, pianist.

The meat of the evening was provided by the playing of Bach's Suite No. 2 in D minor for violoncello solo. The work with its six movements and pervading minor sound was played devotedly, however too romantically and with too much of an effort to make it one work.

It is the feeling of this reviewer that each segment is a piece unto itself and needs no extra tying up. The Sarabande was the high point of the evening, partially.

The Menuets were too heavily footed and in the Gigue the difficulties were played up. The cello has been in possession of solo music for about 225 years. There are those cellists who treat it as a big hall instrument where all seems forced and there are those who play it as the lowest of its big middle register, but Rostropovich seemed to accept the primary penchant of the cello toward broad speech, its devotion to warmth and as an intensifier of ecstasy. Withal, the Bach was a moving experience.

The next 22 minutes were involved with a three-movement Suite by Dmitri Kabalevsky and dedicated to Rostropovich. Each movement began and ended with call and re-call.

Princeton's October Reading List

If you've already finished Mary McCarthy's "The Group," you're probably reading Helen MacInnes' "The Venetian Affair" because these are top-selling (and borrowing) books around Princeton this month.

Fiction

"The Venetian Affair," Helen MacInnes. (Suspense/University Store, Princeton Book Mart, Public Library).
"The Group," Mary McCarthy. That dissection of Vassar alumnae. (Male's Book Shop).

Non-Fiction

"The Letters of F. Scott Fitzgerald," Andrew Turnbull. (University Store).
"The Education of the American Teacher," James B. Conant. (Princeton Book Mart. The controversial Conant report).
"The Pooh Perplex," Frederick Crews. (Male's Book Shop). Let's poke fun at literary criticism.
"The Day They Shipped the Plum Tree," Arthur H. Lewis. (Public Library). A book about Betty Green, the financier.

Recommended . . .

"The Pepperidge Farm Cook Book." (University Store). A loaf of bread, a jug of wine and thou.
"The Perennial Philadelphia," Nathaniel Burt. (Princeton Book Mart). A Princetonian's view.
"Seconds," David Ely. (Male's Book Shop). A novel about identity. ("Ely" is the pseudonym of a former Princeton resident, know who?).
"Realms of Gold," Leonard Cottrell. (Public Library). A new Cottrell is always gold for archaeology buffs.

material and seemingly disconnected intervening content. Unfortunately, the poetical transitions were involved with augmented chord trite-isms that seemed to hover over the entire work.

Kabalevsky, now 60 years old, was in his 20's when the Russian Association of Proletarian Musicians was formulating its curious platform of insinual form and content, which may have led Kabalevsky away from profound expressions in slow tempo.

We know him, of course, for his busy-ness and his ability to write effects at the expense of substance. Like Shostakovich, he has a fondness for the silent movie type of "pay the rent" music in certain piano episodes. Kabalevsky has no trouble in putting the accomplished technician to work, and both cellist and pianist met the challenge victoriously.

After Intermission Rostropovich played another work dedicated to him, the Sonata in C Major, opus 65 (1961) by Benjamin Britten. The 19-minute work was divided into five sections each of which was concerned with certain capabilities of the cello.

Written, a lyricist by birth and persuasion, arrived at that quality in only two of the five movements. The opening movement, labeled dialogue, had a simple motive given to the cello and this was played incessantly while the piano tried to get a word in edgewise.

The second movement was sempre pizzicato for the cello, and here the piano had some lovely lyric passages and clarity of texture. The succeeding elegy was by far the best of the lot, allowing each instrument to sing in its own natural way. The penultimate movement, labeled march, was a marche macabre with the cello unfortunately given the role of a comedian.

The last movement was more perpetual in places only but certainly in the right places, allowing the cellist and pianist to end in a blazing cadence with hardly the "loss of a hair." Generally the Britten had more substance than the Kabalevsky, but surprisingly little more.

The big pieces ended here and the program closed with a sensitive performance of a transcription of a Stravinsky Pastoral, one of the group of three songs that date from 1908. Rostropovich finished with a toccata-like composition of his own in which he was able to exhibit further skills which were not in evidence in the earlier pieces. The work was written handily for both cello and piano and showed both off to great technical advantage.

Rostropovich exhibited wonderful control in the full gamut of dynamics. Never once was the instrument ugly in sound. His big tone was played as though there were more if needed and one might say to Rostropovich what Voltaire said to cellist Duport, "Vous savez faire d'un bœuf un rosignol."

TITOS IN TOWN: President Josef B. Tito of Yugoslavia and Mrs. Tito, with Dr. Don J. Grove of 191 Riverside Drive (right), head physicist at Princeton's Plasma Physics Laboratory which they visited on Monday.

Topics Of The Town
Study. A tour of the plasma physics laboratory and the C-Stellarator at Forrestal followed.

After a drive through the campus and out to the Graduate College, President Tito and his party proceeded to the Lowrie House luncheon, which was also attended by, among others, President and Mrs. Goheen and Mr. and Mrs. Kennan. At 2:30 p.m. the Tito entourage left for New York.

Unlike the recent visits to Princeton of Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett and South Viet Nam's Madame Nhu, no picketing or demonstrations of any kind took place during Marshal Tito's tour. As one police officer, who had been assigned to all three visitors, said about Monday's guests: "That's the way to show these people Princeton. Get them in and out of here when everybody's at work or at classes. Nothing happens."

PARKING APPROVED
New Office Building Set
Parking plans for a new office building to be erected on Route 206 by Harold Pearson were approved Thursday night by the Township Zoning Board. The Township Planning Board had already approved Mr. Pearson's subdivision plan, but had asked the zoning board for parking advice.

Mr. Pearson's building will go up near the complex that contains The Rug Mart. The structure will be two stories high, with entrance to the ground floor from Route 206 and entrance to the second floor from Mt. Lucas Road. The building will be 130 by 50 feet, on 34,774 square feet of land.

CHILD ESCAPES INJURY
When hit by Car. Daryl Marshall, age 6, 68 Clay Street, was shaken up but otherwise uninjured when he was struck by a car Monday just before noon on Wiggins Street near Jefferson.

Takne to Princeton Hospital by a passing motorist, he was examined and later taken home by his mother. X-ray reports were negative. According to reports from several of his schoolmates, the boy was playing with a toy and it bounced into the street. As he darted to retrieve it, his companions noticed an approaching car and shouted to him to come back, but he continued on into the car's path. The driver of the car was Mrs. Ariana J. Wittke of 244 Russell Road.

$365 IS STOLEN
From Ransacked Home. The home of Clarence DiDonato, 27 Harris Road, was entered and ransacked Sunday evening, while its occupants were attending a wedding at the Italian - American Sportsman's Club. Mr. DiDonato later reported that $365 had been taken.

Entry was gained through a cellar window. Once inside, the intruders methodically searched every drawer and conceivable hiding place for money. Clothes from emptied closets were thrown all over. Bureau drawers were stacked on nearby beds and their contents strewn about. In the cellar, a food freezer was emptied. A desk drawer yielded $300. From a wallet in the kitchen, the thieves netted $60. Five dollars was obtained from a bedroom pocketbook.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK
At Township Forum. Gov. Hughes will address the pre-election day meeting of the Princeton Township Democratic Forum Tuesday at 8:30 in the Community Park School. Area Democratic candidates for county and township offices plan to attend the forum. There will be brief addresses by the candidates followed by an audience discussion. It is expected that the governor will discuss the proposed State bond issue as a means for financing new school, highway and institutional facilities. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

CANDIDATES' VIEWS

Borough Republicans, Mayor Henry Patterson, running for re-election on the Republican ticket, issued a statement on election issues this week.

On parking, Mayor Patterson said "I do not understand what the Democrats are referring to when they talk about my administration spending 'hundreds of thousands of dollars' to increase all-day parking facilities." He cited the Park Place lot as the only one built during his term, and the one to "honor the commitment made under the previous Democratic administration." He said the yard was primarily for shoppers.

Citing the Democrats' remark about "destruction of fine old residential areas to make way for unfilled parking lots," Mayor Patterson said he did not regard the Lahiere-Kane property, purchased as replacement for the parking lot acreage which the new library will occupy, as a fine old residential area.

He suggested that the best way to control Borough traffic is to control residential and business density, and that current revision of Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance was designed to do just that.

In regard to the housing authority's proposal for 50 units, Mayor Patterson said, "I am shocked at my opponent's statement regarding my views about integrated housing." He said that, even if there were no applicable law, he would be "unalterably opposed to discrimination of any kind."

"The proposal for housing for the elderly should be decided on the basis of need," Mayor Patterson said, "and in relation to sound zoning and planning practices for the particular site."

Borough Democrats, Minot C. Morgan Jr., Mayor Patterson's Democratic opponent, spoke this week of what he called "the delay in even an interim report from the Dilley Commission." (This is the cluster of committees engaged in studies leading to a report on Borough-Township consolidation.)

"All crucial dates on the Republican calendar seem to be conveniently post-election," charged Mr. Morgan, stating that Mayor Patterson had set a date "not October 1 or even November 1, but December 1" for submission of the first Dilley report.

"This scheduling is dictated by the same policy of unconcern which postpones a hearing on the housing project until a week after election and which, only after Democratic prompting, produces vague and incomplete reports on the Community Gardens' recreation project, with a hedge on the matter of the swimming pool."

Mr. Morgan said he regarded the work of the Dilley Commission as "vital, because in

Telephone "Open House"

Princeton residents will have the opportunity next week to inspect the central offices of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. The open house invitation has been extended for three nights beginning Monday. Located at 238 Nassau Street, the office serves about 8,900 customers in Princeton. The open house program will include exhibits on Telstar, the first communications satellite; telephones of the future, a collection of ultra modern instruments; and cable splicing.

The program will be open to the public 7 to 9 each evening. Plans for the tour were arranged by a committee consisting of Thomas Boyle, chairman, James Dinan, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Elmer Dietz, Walter Bischoff and Russell Lucas.

The absence of consolidation, Borough and Township simply cannot confine themselves to benign platitudes about 'togetherness' but must attack specific problems urgently demanding solution."

He noted that the Democratic platform stressed "joint public service, joint planning, joint open space consideration, joint recreation, joint promotion of human rights."

The Democratic candidate pointed to Republican opposition to the Morgan-proposed Human Rights commission, and said, "No problem of this magnitude can be solved without leadership from elected officials. Whenever pressed, Republicans propose inaction. They worry about being embarrassed. They shun getting involved. Faced by a controversial issue, their reflex is to ask it please to go nicely and quietly away."

CANDIDATES SPEAK

Township Democrats, "Overplanned and under-acted" is the way Democratic Township Committee candidate William M. Sloane described this week's government this week.

"Planning is a fine thing—who can be against it?—but sooner or later, someone has to act," said Mr. Sloane. The candidate cited the municipal swimming pool project which, he said, "is still being studied. When do we get a recommendation for action?"

He then listed traffic, new road construction and school consolidation as problems which are being studied "but when can we start doing?"

Mr. Sloane's running mate, John Yost Jr., commented this week on the rising tax rate in the Township. "We see this rate going up year after year, yet we have virtually nothing to show for it. I recognize that our schools require tax dollars," he said, "but I also recognize that rising tax dollars should be questioned."

Mr. Yost joined Mr. Sloane in expressing urgency about solving Township problems. "We seem to get more action in October just before elections than we do in all the other 11 months combined," he said, "People respond to challenge, and we feel that our local government would do much more responding if it contained a couple of members of the minority party."

Republicans, "The local tax rate was cut in the Township for the first time in more than a decade," stated Russell Mount, Republican candidate for Committee. "The reduction was slightly over four cents per hundred dollars of assessed property values."

Walter B. Foster Jr., Mr. Mount's running mate, said "Lower taxes mean that it will cost less to own or rent a home in Princeton Township. If this is accomplished, better housing opportunities throughout the Township will be available to middle or lower-income families. Such a result can constitute a step forward in the democratization of housing opportunities within the Township as a whole."

Mr. Foster said, however, that the Township faced very eral costly and imperative programs, sanitation, fire, flood, and public safety among them. He added that because of these, another local tax reduction next year "is not something easily accomplished."

Stressing "conservative financial management and municipal self-denial," Mr. Foster repeated the stand he and Mr. X. M. Cramer took in 1963. Township cannot afford an immediate, all-out, one-year completion of all of Community Park.

"Already, substantial sums for the Park have been made available by the present Committee," he said, adding that with such an "orderly approach," the Township could fill its needs for recreation, open space, the joint library, streets and sewers.

So the Man hung out the old-fashioned sign, "No Rain in Sight," as the familiar forecast for the next few days. Cooler than last week's record-setting excursion into the 80's, but temperatures still several degrees above normal.

They are Benjamin R. Warren, 17, 71 Wiggins Street; Keith N. Van, Note, 50 1/2 Maple Street, both 20, and George H. Smith, 18, Pretty Brook Road. Both Warren and Van Note were fined $30 and had their licenses revoked six months. Smith paid $40 and surrendered his license for 120 days.

Also fined for speeding were Joan D. Meyer, 23, 148 Liberty

Nim, an agent of the state Alcohol Beverage Control Commission, was served a drink gin and orange soda at 12:20 a.m. on August 30 — "after hours." The tavern is not permitted to serve drinks after midnight.

White Horse was also charged with failing to maintain a safe condition of the interior from the outside.

Felix Cenerlino pleaded guilty to both counts. "I did not know there was no way of getting out of it," he told Committee. Committeeman William Wilson and Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman reminded Mr. Cenerlino that in 1959, he had been given only a conditional renewal of his license because neighbors complained about the condition was removed in 1960.

Committee passed the ordinance banning parking on the sidewalk at the intersection of that traffic light. The sign was drawn leading into the Valley-Harrison intersection.

"There is very little public gratitude to be found in the performance of the duties of this department," is the bleak comment made by James Doherty, Small Animal Control Officer, in his first report to Committee. He said that dog bites were down in September.

FRANKLIN AND GUYOT: Will Franklin remain, providing an east-west thoroughfare? Will the extension of Guyot Avenue (dotted) be put through? For the latest on these two questions, see story, this page.

FRANKLIN IS A "MUST"
Says Township. Franklin Avenue is such a vital street that it should be retained even if the Borough School Board has to cancel its present agreement with Westminster Choir College and acquire Westminster's land by condemnation. This is the position of the Township Planning Board, announced this week at a special press conference deliberately scheduled to come after the school referendum, and endorsed unanimously by Township Committee at its meeting Monday night.

"The Planning Board is further agreed on the importance of protecting the continuous character of Guyot Avenue," the board also said.

Westminster Choir College, in its negotiations with the Borough Board of Education, agreed to sell land to the board on the condition that Franklin Avenue be "returned" to the college. Westminster, now embarking on the formulation of a Master Plan, wants a continuous campus stretching north from its present one, and unmarred by a bisecting Franklin Avenue.

The Borough School Board's plans show only a parking lot where the extension of Guyot would normally go.

The Need for East-West. The Township Planning Board, of course, has no jurisdiction over Franklin, which lies in the Borough. It does, however, have control over Guyot which is in the Township. Both streets appear on the Borough's 1960 Master Plan report as continuous east-west streets, and Guyot appears as "through" on the Township's road master plan.

"The Princeton community circulation pattern requires more east-west links such as Guyot and Franklin, not fewer," said the planning board in its prepared statement.

"Franklin is an important link between the eastern part of Borough and Township, the high school, Princeton Hospital and the northern section of the Witherspoon Street business district."

The planning board said that traffic counts on Franklin and on Walnut Lane showed "extensive use" of these streets already, particularly during the hours when school is opening and closing, and that the presence of the new school "will dangerously increase traffic on existing arteries" if Franklin is closed and Guyot left as a dead-end.

In stating its position on the two streets, the Township Planning Board emphasized that it is seeking a community solution, and Mayor Fairman repeated this on Monday night.

For Community Good. "We believe in sitting down together with Borough people, and not going only along our own path," said Hans K. Sander, of the planning board.

"We think everybody should take a second look and re-align his ideas a little bit so that we can come up with a solution which is for the good of the community as a whole."

At his press conference this Tuesday, Mayor Henry Patterson suggested that the Choir College might lease Franklin back to the Borough on a year-to-year basis.

The pre-election day moves by the two Township bodies came as a surprise to the Borough.

"I have not received any communication," commented Graham Rohrer, board president, "from either the Township Planning Board or the Township Committee. I am, therefore, not in any position to make any kind of a report on their statements."

He said that the Borough board will proceed to "activate the contract with the Choir College. In the course of doing this, we will obviously be in consultation with the Borough and Township planning boards. There are two minor subdivisions necessary: one a segmentation of the Westminster Choir College property; the other involving the Bradley property."

Is Complacency
Costing Princeton Township
Its "Place in the Sun" ?

You've been hearing talk about recreational facilities for Princeton Township . . . about athletic fields, a swimming pool, picnic areas and walks for nature-lovers . . . and the chances are it all sounded exciting and desirable.

But let's get back to reality. The plain facts are that our Township Committee has been "talking" about meeting our recreational needs for nigh onto 20 years. When are we going to get some action?

For example, the current "talk" you've been hearing stems from the report of a joint Township-Borough Recreation Commission made last June. It was a comprehensive study, and it received enthusiastic applause from the public. But what did our Township Committee do about it? They cautiously decided to refer the Commission's plan to another committee for further study!

Why! Why has the Township Committee continually dragged its feet on recreation and other vital needs of our community? Why do they do so much "talking" about these improvements around election time — as their handpicked candidates are now doing — and then do nothing?

The answer is that our present Township Committee has become so inbred that, perhaps without realizing it, it has become dedicated to a program of inaction. Completely dominated by one political party for years, it has grown complacent. There is no vigorous minority representation to prod its progress.

Whether you normally vote Republican or Democratic, it is important to you — and to Township interests — to warn the present Committee that its complacency is costing the Township its "place in the sun" — the long-needed recreation area where our youngsters and families can enjoy wholesome sports and activities.

How? By making your vote count this year as a protest against Township Committee inactivity. True, if the Democratic candidates win, the Republicans will still be in numerical control. But they will correctly interpret their defeat as a sign that Township citizens are tired of their delaying actions . . . that they want to move forward now.

And you can count on the Democratic candidates to provide the stimulus of strong minority party representation. Both have been active for years in advocating progress on recreation facilities, on open space, on civil rights, on other important measures where positive action has been minimized by the present Township Committee.

Use your vote this year to speak out for action. Vote for William M. Sloane, John R. Yost, and Marlene Herzberg, Princeton Township Democratic Forum.

Why I Plan to Vote Republican | Democratic

By Frederick M. English

By Kennett Love

I plan to vote Republican for reasons I hope are not wholly partisan, for I am not naive enough to believe that political virtue is a Republican monopoly any more than I would contend that political chicanery was a democrat invention. However, viewing the current political scene dispassionately, it seems to me that the climate in the Republican Party is far healthier than is the case in Mr. Kennedy's party.

In spite of their lip service the democrats seem to operate on a "politics as usual basis." This attitude views people, not as individual human beings with human problems, but as faceless groups which must be carefully weighed for their vote potential.

The human needs of the individual must first be sifted through a screen of political expediency. This is one of the methods of power politics and places foremost the perpetuation of the organization in power.

I prefer a party of statesmanship to a party of expediency. Nationwide, the democrats have been very successful through their addition to power politics.

On the other hand the Republicans have been reduced to isolated pockets of resistance and Princeton is one of these remaining strongholds. I shall vote Republican to prevent further democrat inroads and to elect candidates that are not addicted to power politics; candidates who will not merely mimic the histrionics of upper political echelons.

Mayor Patterson's administration has approached problems that concern both the borough and the township on a constructive and cooperative basis. A specific example is his sponsorship of a joint borough-township committee to work with the Borough Recreation Committee and the Township Board of Recreation Commissioners to realize a recreation area at Community Gardens. Another forward looking and constructive step taken by the Republican administration was the adoption of a set-back amendment to the borough zoning ordinance which prescribes a much needed uniform set-back line on Nassau Street.

For the above reasons, and others, I will cast my vote for Henry Patterson, Jerry Horton and Elwood Godfrey.

I know I ought to do more about the race problem than sign pledges and march around Alexander Hall. Racism is The American Dilemma Number One. And just as clear as the line around our own Black Ghetto, it is equally the Princeton Dilemma Number One.

But that is not the only problem I ought to take a more active interest in. Traffic is so unmanageable in this region that morning and evening radio broadcasters, aided by helicopter reporters hovering over the teeming roads, give it more air time than any other category of news. Here in Princeton we are losing a battle that is making the heart of the Borough into an asphalt desert of parking-lots. Obviously something different has to be done.

Public recreation is clearly another urgent issue in a town where teenagers are forbidden to sit on the campus wall along Nassau Street and, all too often, vent their energies in destructive party - crashing at night. As for zoning, I have the uneasy feeling that local skirmishes and petitions cannot control, in the long run, the balance between commercial and residential areas.

It would be fine to go galloping off in all directions to fight for all these causes. But if I can't do personal justice to every one of them, I can and will vote for a Borough administration that feels as strongly about them as I do, and, equally important, has the energy and ability to do something about them.

It sounded like the Walter Mitty in me speaking out loud when Minot C. Morgan Jr., the Democratic candidate for Mayor, opened his campaign with a challenge last month. He said:

"It's not enough to say that by 1975 every day on Nassau Street will be like the Yale game. Prevent it! It's not enough to slam the barn door on business frontage when a commercial building is halfway across Nassau Street toward the school playground. Predict it!"

Fine! How? Well, I am convinced that the best way I can prevent, inspire, and predict is to vote for Mr. Morgan and the rest of the Democratic slate, including Paul Baldeagle and Joseph R. Strayer for Councilmen.

These men, all residents of Princeton for more than thirty years, have drafted a hard-headed platform (the first to be published by a Princeton slate) that spells out what they pledge to do about: civil rights and the race problem, housing, "Town and Gown" relations, automotive traffic, public recreation, housing, conservation both of historic buildings and open space, Borough and Township consolidation and (pending consolidation) cooperation and town planning.

The platform bluntly describes Princeton's race situation:

"Housing and employment opportunities grossly favor white citizens. In large part because of that inequality and a consequent lack of hope on the horizons of the future, our Negro children are not motivated to take full advantage of the

AFS RECEPTION PLANNED
For Foreign Students. The Princeton Committee of the American Field Service will hold its fall reception and tea Sunday at 4 in Miss Fine's School.

Three foreign students are spending the school year in Princeton under the sponsorship of the service. They are Eiko Shima of Japan, who is living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Taplin and at boarding Miss Fine's. Eva Lou Altarejos of the Philippines, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cusumano of Hightstown, attending Princeton High School, and Jan O.W. Willner of Sweden, living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold I. Warner of Skillman, a student at Princeton High.

Two American students have returned recently from a summer abroad as part of the exchange program. They are Susan Schidkraut, a senior at Miss Fine's, and Charlotte Yoder of Princeton High.

ADULTS PLAN PANELS

For Parents of Teenagers. The Princeton YMCA Adult committee is planning to hold a three-panel discussion this coming year for parents of teenagers.

The panels will be entitled "Spiritual Values in Family Life" and will be under the direction of committee members Daniel Matzenella and William Cherry. John Mount is chairman of the organization.

The discussions have been scheduled for November 6, February 5 and April 29. The three Wednesday sessions will begin at 8 in the Princeton Y and will deal with "Developing Teenage Values," "The Teenager in Suburbia," and "Finding a Meaningful Life's Work."

COMMITTEE NAMED

To Work With Farms. The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee of Princeton has named its executive committee. The organization is composed of students from Princeton High and Miss Fine's School.

Executive members are Arthur Brooks, Juanita Cox, Jackie Geary, Lynn Goldsmith, Sheila Halcher, Jay Lockard, Richard Lockhart, Barbara Putnam, Margot Stein, Sally Stewart and Raymond Vuglin. The group will cooperate with the Princeton University New Liberal Forum. Michael Lipky will serve as advisor to the high school students.

The area students are working to raise funds for support of the organization's efforts in the South. They will also attempt to discover and publicize discrimination in Princeton and take action against it.

"BRIDGING TWO WORLDS"

Book Reviews Planned. The Princeton Jewish Center and the Princeton Public Library will begin their third year of collaboration and cooperation next Wednesday. Since the fall of 1961, the two organizations have joined to present a series of book reviews on literary and social topics of importance.

Next Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at the Jewish Center, the theme will be "Bridging Two Worlds" and the speakers will be Professor Fred Shorter of the Princeton University economics department, his wife, Baul Shorter, enrichment coordinator for the Township schools, and director of the public library's "Asian Summer" of 1962, and David Hapgood, former New York Times correspondent, recently returned from Africa.

The three principals will discuss the impact of the twentieth century and its technological advances on primitive cultures. Books to be considered will be "Teacher" by Sylvia Ashton Warner, "Quiet Crisis in India" by John P. Lewis and "Things Fall Apart" and "No Longer at Ease" by Chinua Achebe.

The public is invited to attend the reviews, which are free of charge. Coffee will be served at 9:30 and the discussions will begin at 10.

Reviews will be held about every six weeks during the year. In early December, a panel of reviewers will consider the writings of Mary Mc-Carthy. In January, the sponsors hope to present a program on creativity in the arts and after the first of the year, a program on South American literature and one on poetry.

Mrs. Samuel Cohen is chairman for the Jewish Center and Mrs. W.W. Wainio is the public librarian assigned to the project.

Reading lists, including supplementary books on the topic to be discussed, are available at the public library.

LIBRARY SERIES SET

To Discuss Services. The Friends of the Princeton Public Library will hold a series of coffee hours beginning this Thursday at 10:30 a.m. to discuss the present and future of the library's services.

excellent education which is equally open to them."

In addition to the platform pledge, Mr. Morgan promises that, if elected, he will create a Borough Human Rights Commission composed of business (including real estate), labor, and professional leaders. The commission would be empowered under an existing State law to investigate complaints of discrimination and "conduct a continuing examination of all aspects of human rights in the community."

The members of the Democratic state were leaders in the recent battle for integrated housing for the elderly on North Harrison Street. And they have nailed the racial overtones in the opposition to their campaign for a public recreation center and swimming pool. Their pledges are of a piece with their actions on the record.

Mr. Morgan, now general manager of the Institute for Advanced Study, has had a distinguished administrative career on the University staff. He served once before as Mayor (1946 and 1947) and has guided the fund drives of civic charities.

Mr. Baldeagle, for 35 years a teacher and coach in the Bordentown school system, is an Indian active in the national councils of Indian affairs. Professor Strayer, for 33 years a member of Princeton's history faculty, is a consultant to U.S. Government agencies. All three Democratic candidates are Princeton graduates.

"Progress AND Preservation" for Princeton is the Democratic campaign slogan. The Democratic candidates see the issues lucidly and whole and in terms of their effects on the lives of the people who live and work in Princeton — all the people. By temperament, professional conditioning, and position, all three men are notably immune to the influence of special interests, commercial or other. For example, despite their university connections, they have pledged to seek more money from the Gown for the Town.

I think it is our good fortune to have these scholars and gentlemen on the ballot. It will be our greater good fortune to have them in office.

THE PROBLEM IS CLOTHED: Far from it as far as high school students are concerned. Exposed shirt tails and teased hair are in the center of a question over whether school officials should be able to govern the way students should dress. Gayle Lovelace and Anthony Sculerati offer their comments. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Within limits, do you think high school officials should be allowed to govern how their students should dress?

Where asked: Around town.

Wendy Collinson, 347 Mercer Road, freshman, PHS: Yes, I know much about dressing now. Nowadays, their skirts are too short, they wear their hair teased too high — the type of dress they wear is more suitable for an elaborate party rather than school. It's disgusting. I do think the school should have some say to some degree. They should limit it to something like skirts and blouses and houses under sweaters, not just sweaters as some girls don't think there should be a definite pattern of dress.

Robert Shaw, 166 Washington, senior, PHS: No because we pay for our clothes and I believe we should be allowed to dress as we want. We support the teachers in the educational system through taxes. It's a free society and I believe teachers should not be allowed to tell us how to live. Most of the kids are pretty neat dressers, anyway.

Patricia McCrohan, 278 Hamilton Avenue, sophomore, PHS: Yes, I definitely do because I think kids get carried away. They carry it to extremes — definitely. And some of their parents don't even care. When people visit the school, they get the wrong impression.

Linda Baruch, 170 Pine Road, freshman, PHS: Yes, definitely. I think boys should come to school in suitable dress — not as though they were going out to ride a motorcycle or just hack around. They should wear the same thing they would if they had a job. I think some pattern of dress should be installed in Princeton High School but not necessarily in all schools. The students of schools in other places might not be allowed to buy suits but at Princeton they can.

Stan Link, 26 Mercer Street, senior, PHS: No, I don't think they should. I think it is up to the student to decide. If they set certain limits, I think some students would not be able to afford to dress within those limits. And, to me, this makes the whole thing rather pointless. It also involves violating a person's free will.

Anne Alonso, State Road, senior, PHS: Yes, I think school officials should have this right. But I also think that students shouldn't always have to do what the school officials want them to do. I will say that all students can and should wear neat, dress neatly but that doesn't mean they ought to be required to dress in a certain way.

Charles Elmer, Old Trenton Road, Trenton, sophomore, PHS: I feel since we buy the clothes we should be able to wear whatever we want. I think school officials should have a say in the matter only if they buy the clothes for us.

Karen Dodwell, Hibernian Apartments, sophomore, PHS: Sometimes, and sometimes not. I think students should be allowed to dress how they please — within limits. I don't think teachers should be allowed to step in unless the kids go to extremes. If they do, then I guess the school officials should be allowed to set up certain rules of dress that would apply to everybody. Some do go to extremes and the rest of us have to suffer that's the unfair part.

Jaye Brinster, 271 Mercer Road, freshman, PHS: I certainly do. Not to the point of ordering us to wear uniforms, but I think they should have some say. Girls come to school with skirts as high as they can get them, I think they should be required to wear them at a reasonable height. Some girls come to school with their hair teased very high, I don't think girls should be allowed to tease their hair at all. I definitely think some pattern of dress should be set both for girls and boys.

Gayle Lovelace, Malabar Junior, PHS: No, because different girls have different tastes in clothes and I think they ought to be able to wear what they want. I think girls should be able to wear short skirts if they want to. I don't like this idea of wearing skirts long all the time.

Anthony Sculerati, 9 Patton Avenue, freshman, PHS: No, I wouldn't like it, in fact the truth I feel it is a free country. (continued on Page 2)

Barnett Shames Our Country:
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I do not feel that Gov. Ross Barnett was mistreated on his recent trip to Princeton, as John E. Kuser wrote in his letter to TOWN TOPICS last week. Political leaders have to face public opinion in a democracy.

Mr. Kuser writes that Fidel Castro received better treatment than the "elected" governor of one of our sister states. Elected by whom? Certainly not by the majority of people of voting age in his state.

Thousands of Negroes, by various methods, were kept from voting in that election, as in others. This makes some Americans as angry at Barnett as at Castro, and with more justification, because Barnett shames our country while Castro only insults it.

Mr. Kuser also says we turned out "to hoot like a bunch of apes" at our fellow citizen. Isn't Mr. Kuser forgetting that this "fellow citizen" is also a fellow citizen of the Negroes in his state whom he and his followers mistreat and to whom they deny the basic rights of all human beings? And does Mr. Kuser think it proper to refer to his fellow Princetonians as "apes"?

Finally, I wonder that a man so well-educated as Mr. Kuser says he is, and one who has put himself up for county office, seems to understand so little about the feeling of people who are denied their rights. Most of my sophomore classmates in Princeton High School already understand this.

EDWARD BERGER
72 Clover Lane
Slower Than a Snail.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
It is good to see that Princeton's public recreation needs are being discussed by the candidates for Township Committee this year. There is apparently much interest in this question, as shown by the demand for action expressed at the overflow meeting at the high school last spring. Every review of local teen-age opinion in the last two years has highlighted the town's deficiency in recreation, especially its need for public swimming facilities.

As one who has followed these matters since 1957, and was Township Committeeman assigned to liaison with the Recreation Commission during 1960 and 1961, I am obliged to comment on two recent statements on the subject.

Both Committeeman Green's remarks (according to the account of a recent Township Committee meeting) and the published release of the Republican candidates, reveal that same throbbing lack of enthusiasm on the part of Township officialdom which has given us a slower-than-snail's pace record in developing public recreation.

Mr. Green referred to the study being made of experience in other towns with public swimming pools. This is a hardy perennial, already studied at least twice by the Recreation Committee. Surely a public swimming pool is no longer considered a radically new or deviant idea that it must be approached as though it were some bold experiment.

The statement of the Republican candidates, if read carefully, approaches a catalog of reasons for moving with all the caution that would be appropriate if the question were whether to locate an atomic reactor in Community Park. To ask whether a swimming pool is more important than public health, as the candidates do, is such an ancient tangle in Princeton that it has a full set of whiskers. (Trouble is, nothing happens in the reconstruction of the sewer system either.)

Their statement that the swimming pool would be erected on land that the Township does not yet own is, I believe, completely mistaken. The instructions from the Recreation Board to the architect-planter were that the pool was to be within the original Community Park tract. In any case, we have been told by our public officials that acquisition of immediately adjacent land for the park was imminent.

The fault of this statement by the Republican candidates is that it makes a great deal too much of the various gifts of land to the Township, while it overlooks the complete inadequacy of the Township's developed (or, for that matter, developing) recreational facilities.

WILLIAM W. MARVEL
141 Dodds Lane

Township Congratulated.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of an open letter to the Princeton Township Committee:

The 600 members of the Friends of the Joint Free Public Library of Princeton congratulate you for taking the first step toward the erection of the new Public Library by purchasing Princeton Township's share of the Witherpoon Street site. Every parent of a school-age child, every householder faced with new problems, every gardener, amateur craftsman, participant in group activity, every reader of books for the sheer pleasure of reading, is heartened and delighted that the community is on its way toward a larger, sturdier, brighter library better equipped to serve these diverse interests.

The acquisition of the site gives substance to our hope for adequate library facilities and although the physical construction lies ahead, it is deeply gratifying to be able to point to this particular place and know that here the new building will rise.

The Friends of the Joint Free Public Library are aware of the time and effort spent by the officials of Princeton Township toward this goal and want to assure you of our appreciation and vigorous support.

Bond Issue "Extravagant."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

For several years the League of Women Voters has advocated a broad base tax as the best way to remove the basic inequities of New Jersey's antiquated tax system and to provide more adequately for the state's needs. When Governor Hughes proposed the $750,000,000 bond issue, the League studied it carefully and decided to oppose it. The basic reason for our opposition is that the plan totally pledges a future source of revenue while evading the responsibility of the present generation to provide enough support for current needs.

Spokesmen for the bond issue emphasize that urgent needs make it necessary to have the money immediately and that it will be impossible to get a broad base tax through the legislature soon enough. New Jersey voters will be interested to know that members of the League of Women Voters interviewed 70 out of the 80 state legislators during the last two years. Sixty-four of the 70 saw the need for a broad base tax and said they were ready to accept it when the bond issue was proposed. Since the report of the State Tax Policy Commission and the announcement of the bond plan, the voters have become more aware of the needs of the state and would give the necessary support for a broad base tax.

Voters will also be interested to know that if the turnpike revenues are not sufficient for repayment of the interest and principal on the bonds, the necessary money will be raised from the tax on cigarettes, and, if necessary, an annual tax assessment on real and personal property in each municipality.

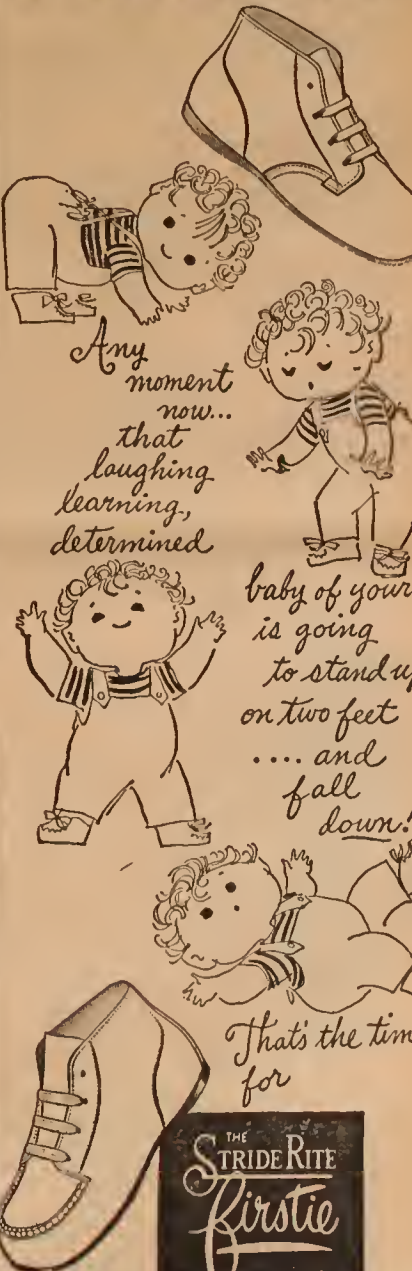

The bond issue only perpetuates the unjust tax system under which the property owners pay more than their proportionate share of the tax bill. Since the bond issue does not provide enough funds to eliminate annual budget deficits or to provide money to staff and operate the new facilities, the bond plan will not, in any case, prevent a broad base tax.

We should reject the extravagant bond proposal and insist that the legislature enact a broad base tax which will distribute the tax burden equitably and secure adequate revenue for the needs of the state.

DIAMOND JUBILEE FOR HARRINGTONS: Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Harrington, married on October 14, 1903, celebrated their wedding anniversary at Merwick. Mr. Harrington attended the 70th reunion of his Princeton class (1893) in June, and his wife marked her 60th from Vassar in 1962.

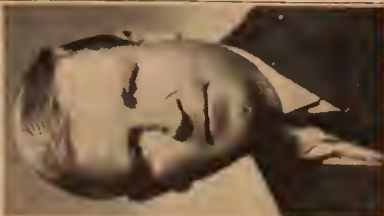

PEOPLE In The News

MARRIED 60 YEARS Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Harrington, married on October 14, 1903, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at Merwick, where they have been guests since March. Mr. Harrington, who was 92 on May 12, is one of 51 surviving members of Princeton University's class of 1893.

Mrs. Harrington graduated from Vassar College in 1902 and celebrated her 65th birthday on August 12. The couple have three children: Mr. Marshall, 32, who married since 1941 when Mr. Harrington, a Presbyterian clergyman, retired.

The Harringtons were married in Newburgh, N.Y., on October 14, 1903. The West Point military band, in Newburgh for a competition, serenaded them with the wedding march. Mrs. Harrington recalls.

One son, Marshall C., is with the Air Force in Washington, D.C., and the other, John B., is a professor at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Ore. Both graduated from Princeton in the classes of 1926 and 1932 respectively. The Harringtons have one granddaughter.

John M. Fenton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Rotnem, completed his training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S.C. Mr. Rotnem, a private, will be instructed in combat infantry training at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Harry H. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard I. Davis, 29 East Curdis Avenue, and Clark G. Travers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Travers of Fairview, is a graduate of Wesleyan University. He also studied at the University of Paris and the Ecole Polytechnique in France.

Madame Nhu Defended.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I call it regrettable that to a paper as ably edited as yours there should appear a piece of journalism as bad in every way as the story (October 10) announcing what an appalling woman you think Madame Nhu. First — and I should have thought obvious even to the uninterested reader — you can hardly proclaim how devoted we are to free speech and assembly but in the next breath deny our outrage at having people we disagree with come here to speak freely. There was a cartoon, famous a generation ago, of a New York cop dragging a Union Square man from his soapbox. The caption was "Shut up, this is a free country." And this might not be one of the funniest in your journalist's education.

Secondly, it strikes me as an extravagance of provincialism to expect the rest of the world to share our notion of what is what when there is nothing in the rest of the world to make it likely. Why under the sun should Madame Nhu put up with our specialized and selected humanitarianism, not feel guilt ridden about her own culture? Why for that matter should have Gov. Harrell have been expected to deny that the South is what he can see it is with his own eyes, a country as occupied as Hungary.

Third and worst is the offense to good manners. It is bad enough that your mayor, in a rush of small town politeness, should have felt called upon to tell a visiting governor how unwelcome he was. But for a responsible newspaper to greet the wife of the head of a foreign state with an outburst like that slanted story of yours is an affront to the sensibilities of anyone who reads it.

Civil Rights Study Needed.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Last week a letter to TOWN TOPICS contended that Democratic candidate Minot Morgan's proposal of a Civil Rights Commission for the Borough of Princeton "would have been an excellent idea . . . six months ago," but now . . . duplication now that PAHR is operating. A refutation of this position appeared in a news item from Newark on the same day the letter was published.

The story quoted George F. Plaus, director of New Jersey's Division on Civil Rights, as being "horribly disappointed that few municipalities have set up rights commissions." Plaus urged such local commissions in order that they might serve "as the voice of the conscience of the community, privately to persuade city officials to consider civil rights when making decisions." He also stated that the state agency would not part of its staff at the disposal of local commissions and that the latter could perform a useful role by serving as "local antennae for the state by taking complaints from citizens and relaying them to" the state.

PAHR is destined to play an important role in Princeton's future; so can a local civil rights commission. To refuse to create this public agency because PAHR exists would be analogous to refusal to continue the U.S. Civil Rights Commission because NAACP, the Urban League and other such groups are at work. Neither private groups nor public agencies can cope with the civil rights issues alone; the notorious question of our time is whether they can do it together.
In the course of recent months I have been making a professional appraisal of a number of city and state agencies created in combat discrimination. From that research I have two major impressions. The first is that these agencies have, for various reasons, been too weak to achieve their maximum potential contribution.
The second is that, notwithstanding their limitations, they have accomplished much that otherwise never would have been done. Thus I am not in the least persuaded that the birth of PAHR is any reason to order an abortion for a Princeton Civil Rights Commission.

Public Library Backed.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
In the same vein that we supported the new Borough Elementary School, not as political candidates, but as interested citizens, we do, of course, support the proposed new joint library for which a site has just been acquired.

Like the present schools, the Public Library has outlived its present quarters. In many ways public schools and public libraries complement each other and need each other.

We hope that our Republican opponents in the Borough and candidates of both Parties in the Township will join with us and all other citizens in strongly endorsing the construction of a Joint Public Library, centrally located to serve all the people of the Princeton Community.

Borough Residents, Note.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

A grave concern is being voiced just now largely by Township residents, but is sure to be shared in the next weeks by an increasing number of thorough residents. I am addressing myself to your Borough readers about a facet of one of our worst community problems, which someone has referred to in your pages as the "Battle of the Automobile."

Many Township citizens are expressing anxiety about the proposal that an important part of Franklin Avenue be removed and a still unfinished part of Guyot Avenue vacated between Walnut and Linden lanes. This plan has been made in connection with the expansion of the Westminster Choir College campus and the development of the grounds of the new Borough Elementary School.

Borough readers may have gathered that Township interests are being pressed at the expense of Borough residents. Nothing could be farther from the truth! I wonder how many Borough dwellers have realized to what extent they themselves are going to feel the impact if these streets are not available as public thoroughfares when their new school opens two years from now. These are not the children and adults who would be affected directly.

(1) Multitudes of walking and biking children who would be making their way through dangerous traffic to and from the elementary and high schools.

(2) High school students who in their own cars or in buses — move in the midst of traffic congestion already serious and sure to grow worse when 1,000 elementary students are brought into the immediate neighborhood.

(3) Teacher and parent drivers, and administrative and service personnel, who would have to rely upon awkward roundabout routes in approaching and leaving the elementary and high schools;

(4) Hamilton Avenue householders whose street would have to do nearly triple duty as an east-west access route for motorists.

A few minutes with a street map should convince many thorough people of the crucial significance of the Franklin and Guyot Avenue stretches in any sensible traffic planning for the whole Princeton community. There may be some Borough citizens who to date have given only passing thought to the question of these streets. I strongly suggest to them that they especially study the ways in which they and their children would suffer if these roadways were eliminated or benefit if these roadways were open in the future.

The Township of course has final say as to whether this segment of Guyot Avenue is completed or closed. But the Franklin Avenue segment belongs to the Borough citizens, who are being asked to surrender control of it to Westminster Choir College to clear the way for its removal. The college has made the vacating of this right-of-way a condition of its sale of the new school site to the Borough. As a legal consideration, however, there seems to be no reason why the land may not be acquired without the necessity of yielding an essential public thoroughfare. The law amply provides for the setting aside of school tracts through routine condemnation procedures, such as those followed by the Township in obtaining the River-side school property.

I sincerely believe that it is in the interest of both Borough and Township to insure that these portions of Franklin and Guyot Avenues are available in the future for the use of all of us.

THIS IS WHY IT'S CALLED 'THE WEDGE PLAY:' Tackles Ernie Pascarella (75) and Bill Guedel (70) have cut a pie-shaped slice out of the Colgate line and fullback Cosmo Iacavazzi is hurdling through it for a touchdown. Run to the strong side of the single wing formation, the play is one of the basic short-yardage ground-gainers of single wing football. This one was good for six points at 8:31 of the second period, putting Tigers at half-way mark in their eventual 42-0 triumph. The shutout was their third in four games. (Staff Photo)

SPORTS In Princeton

REVENGE IS SWEET
And It Works for Tigers. A year ago, Princeton's football team lost two consecutive games by a single point for the first time in the Tigers' 92-year history. The fans were mad, the coaches upset and the players frustrated.

Unpleasant memories are rarely short, but in the world of athletics they have a way of paying off accumulated dividends. Last week, it was Colgate's turn to go through the mill at the hands of an irritated Princeton eleven; this week, it is Cornell's.

At Ithaca on October 27, 1962, Cornell four times overcame Princeton leads to hang up a 35-34 triumph. The losers' porous defense was ripped for 337 yards by quarterback Gary Wood, who ran for two touchdowns and passed for three more to make life miserable for the favored Tigers.

Expectations are that the streamlined 1963 version of the Orange and Black model will spend much of the afternoon getting even for these well-remembered miseries. Game time is 2 p.m. in the Stadium, and a crowd upwards of 30,000 is likely.

Cornell Offense - Minded. With Wood and Pete Gogolak (now known here merely as "Charlie's older brother") both extremely dangerous scoring threats, the most unlikely development of the afternoon is that the visitors will be shut out. Cornell has scored two touchdowns or better against all four of its opponents (Colgate, Lehigh, Harvard, Yale) and Gogolak has booted three field goals — two of them covering 40 yards.

Bob Milne, 190-lb. senior fullback, gives the Red a good one-two punch, keeping the defense honest with his thrusts into the middle while Wood skirts the flanks with his options that can lead to piteous or passes. It was this sort of devilry that bewildered the Princeton defense last year, and to some extent here in 1961, when Wood began to come of age as a sophomore and cut a three-touchdown Princeton lead to a 30-25 final.

Ithacans Not Solid. Three distinct weaknesses have held Cornell to a 2-2 mark this season. First a nd foremost is a continuation of the defensive troubles that saw the Red finish last in Ivy statistics in 1962 when it allowed an average of 363.3 yards per game. Last week Yale, still learning a new offense under a new coaching

THE LINE: Lacks an outstanding player, also somewhat short on depth. Averages 201.

BACKFIELD: Capt. Gary Wood may be league's best brokenfield runner. Fullback Bob Milne likewise a major threat.

CHIEF ASSET: Wood's speed and ability make him a scoring threat from anywhere on the field.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Lack of good backs other than Wood and Milne, and general defensive difficulties.

TYPE OF ATTACK: T with unbalanced line and lonely end.

regime, ran and passed for 387 yards at Ithaca.

Coach Tom Harp's operatives are also extremely prone to fumbles. In their last two games, a total of six have gone to the opposition, time and again stalling out potential scoring drives.

Finally, the label of "one-man team" can in some degree be pinned on Cornell or possibly more accurately, Wood plus Gogolak. The latter, weighing almost 50 pounds more than Charlie, has greater leg power and can boot field goals from ten to 15 yards farther out. In many a game last year, however, the Ithacans' problem was that they needed to score so badly that they simply couldn't afford to go for a mere three points.

Wood had his best day of the season against Yale, ripping off one 80-yard touchdown run

Ivy League Forecast

Princeton over Cornell. Tigers far too deep.

Harvard over Dartmouth. Indians' offense suspect.

Penn over Rutgers. Just a hunch, no more.

Colgate over Yale. In a close one.

Columbia over Lehigh. Easy for Lions.

Brown over Rhode Island. By big margin.

and accumulating 223 yards in total offense. His passing percentage this season is a mere 38%, however, compared to the 51% he achieved last season, and the indication is that the Cornell line cannot withstand the pressure that is being put on him. He will, however, be extremely dangerous whenever he is on the field simply because he is a fine football player in anybody's league.

TIGERS RAISING HOB

With Ivy League Predictions.

When the firing is over Saturday afternoon, it could be that Princeton will stand alone at the top of the Ivy League. And unless either Harvard or Dartmouth achieves a one-sided victory in their meeting at Cambridge this weekend, the Tigers will be the team to beat in the final month that will determine the 1963 Ivy champion.

The reason is as fundamental as the fact that blocking and tackling are the basic foundation for success in the sport. Of the eight members of the Ancient Brotherhood, Princeton is playing far and away the most solid brand of football.

At Hanover, winless Holy Cross held Dartmouth to minus five yards rushing in the first half and the Indians needed a last-period TD to run the nation's longest victory streak to 13. At Cambridge, six Harvard fumbles bobbled the Crimson and if Archie Roberts could call as sound a game as he can discharge the other duties of a quarterback, the Lions might well be leading the Ivy League with a 4-0 mark. Faulty field generalship played a part in Columbia's 7-6 loss to Princeton, while against Harvard a pass thrown from the 15-yard line in the closing minutes resulted in an interception that erased an easy chance for a winning field goal.

Princeton, meantime, is playing better football than at any time since it won the Ivy title in 1957, and some of its take-charge authority is reminiscent of the unbeaten teams of 1950-51. As against Penn, it was the basics of good football — a dependable, occasionally spectacular running game, and a stubborn defense generated by sure-fire tackling, that broke the game open early.

In each half, Princeton scored the first time it came into possession, and it was this sort of authority against a previously unbeaten team that tugs the memory back to the early years of the 1950's. There is no Kazmaier, no Frank McPhee at end, no Dave Hiekkok at center, no Hollie Donan at tackle, but some of the players are as good or better than their counterparts of the unheavenly era and there is the same sort of depth that the championship teams had.

This is not to say, with five games still left on the schedule, that Princeton is likely to win them all, or is even an odds-on favorite to take the Ivy title. As Dick Colman pointed out in the Caldwell Field House after the 42-0 rout of Colgate, "Facing Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth on successive Saturdays is placing a tremendous demand on any team." Before that, upsets at the hands of Cornell and vastly-rejuvenated Brown are by no means out of the realm of possibility.

The Tigers have, however, rolled joyfully over a team which is good enough so that it may not lose another game on its schedule. Fielding a 216-lb. line, a good backfield and a capable second unit Colgate nonetheless was never able to cope with this whirled-up band of Tigers whose first unit stood on the sidelines yelling angrily at the second team because the opposition was momentarily damaging Princeton's treasured defensive rating as the nation's best.

This was the sort of attack the Tigers perpetrated.

• Seven plays covering 44 yards, Cosmo Iacavazzi hurdling over the middle from a yard out.

• Five plays for 51 yards, end Robby Robinson's ankle-high grab of Dan McKay's pass erasing the final 17.

• Ron Landeck's picturesque interception and return to the Colgate 12, followed two plays later by Iacavazzi's burst through center.

COSMO IACAVAZZI
Princeton Fullback

Rarely does the mere presence of a player on a field affect the outcome of a football game, but that was the story Saturday as Princeton walloped previously-unbeaten Colgate, 42 to 0. Dick Colman told about it in the new Caldwell Fieldhouse after the contest had ended.

"The moment we even faked a handoff to Iacavazzi," he said, "the ends pinched in and the half-backs came up. They were keying on him so heavily that we could send Reckenbach and McKay outside without anyone even knocking the ends down."

With a 216-lb. line jamming the middle against him, Cosmo carried the ball only four times in the first half. But on two of his bursts through the center, he shot into the end zone for touchdowns. Last year in nine games, he led Princeton in scoring with seven TD's—this fall, with the season less than half gone, he already has six.

• Hugh MacMillan's sizzling punt return behind half a dozen eye-filling blocks, the 92-yard run ranking as the longest of its kind here within memory.

• McKay's slice through left tackle for the fifth touchdown after he had run or passed on each of the half-dozen plays that covered 70 yards after the second half kickoff.

• MacMillan's tour of right end from seven yards out, climaxing a 44 yard march in just three plays early in the final quarter. Each of the six TD's signalled by a booming placement from Gogolak.

Up front, vital factors include Captain Bill Guedel's play and leadership at tackle, steadily improving ability and depth at right end, where Robinson, Jim Hiekkok, Jim Batfield and Jack Singer are all first-line material, and the constant fine play of the sophomore guards, Stas Malczewski and Paul Savidge, who help make the second unit so sound.

Defense wins the half games, and this year the Tigers have it, where last year they never had. Cornell, lacking it, is about to pay the fine for its trespasses of 1962.

In one sense, Iacavazzi is like Dick Kazmaier: he's a perfectionist who is always seeking to improve his play, particularly the blocking he does for the tailbacks and wingbacks. When he's the ball carrier, tacklers literally bounce off him as his second effort produces invaluable extra yardage.

In four games so far, the Seranton, Pa., resident has gained 237 yards in 61 carries for a fine 4.3 average. He not only runs through the middle but also tours the ends, and one of these days, many a Princeton fan hopes, they'll turn him loose on the receiving end of a screen pass.

When Princeton had its defensive troubles in recent years, linchpin was often a primary deficiency. Last week, when Colgate was threatening to erase the zero from its side of the scoreboard, Colman sent Cosmo in to do a little red-dogging. Two plays later, the passer was spilled for a ten-yard loss.

When Cornell coach Tom Harp watches Iacavazzi Saturday, he'll recall sadly that Cos actually planned to go to Ithaca—until he found that he preferred the aeronautical engineering facilities at Princeton. When Dick Colman watches him, he'll repeat his contented refrain of this fall.

"I've got the best fullback in the country."

PHS IS FLYING HIGH
Ewing Is Next. Happily adrift on Cloud 9, following its fine 12-7 victory over arch-rival Trenton High last week, the Princeton High School football team must return to earth Saturday when it is scheduled to oppose Ewing High School at 11. The game will be played at Ewing.

The chief pitfall that the Little Tiger squad must guard against, of course, is that it will continue to back in the warmth of its victory over Trenton and fail to turn its advantage to a victory—marred Ewing eleven. It is a lapse that could prove fatal.

No one is more aware of this than PHS coach Dick Wood. Not since 1958 has PHS experienced the euphoria of a victory over Trenton. It is against this understandably heady background that Wood must somehow keep his Little Tigers snarling and hungry for more.

Commenting on Ewing, Wood said, "They don't seem to be as good as they were last year. But we're still going to have to work hard," he added. "It is going to be a tough game, no matter what their record is."

For the record, Ewing is 1-3. Following an opening game victory, the Blue Devils have lost three straight, including last week's 34-13 rout by Ramapo Valley High School.

Princeton is 2-2. A victory here is vital if Wood hopes to keep above .500 because the following week, Somerville comes to town. And Somerville owns a 20-6 decision over North Plainfield, which earlier edged Princeton, 7-6. It was also against these same Ewing Blue Devils that PHS played what Wood considers was its worst game of the 1962 season. So there is a lot riding on this one.

Just Like Yale. "We're very happy the way things turned out. It's wonderful. For us, the game's just like Yale-Princeton."

These comments by Wood, who was understandably pleased with his team's triumph over Trenton Saturday. Defensive coach Jerry Groninger joined in the chorus when he said, "We can collect the suits tonight, we've had a good season."

To do it, PHS combined an 11-yard pass from Paul Walstad to Bill Bartolino, a blocked

How to keep your money in two different places (AND LIVE TO REGRET IT)

Some people think it doesn't matter where you keep your savings as long as you receive a high return. They usually have their checking account at a Full Service commercial bank and their savings in some other financial institution.

People who have plans for their savings—like buying a house or car, sending the kids to college, or taking advantage of a business opportunity—know that there's one type of financial institution that can act as their financial partner in carrying out their plans. That's a Full Service commercial bank. This is true because a Full Service bank, unlike other financial institutions, can lend money for any legitimate purpose at rates generally lower than you'd find anywhere else.

To take advantage of this "financial partnership," just make us your financial headquarters for our checking and savings accounts, for all your loans. Get acquainted with at least one of the bank's officers so that you know where you stand financially right now.

When you need some extra money, borrow it from us instead of taking it out of your savings. Paying the loan back as promised will help build your credit reputation.

When you're ready for a major financial move, you'll find we can help you with advice and, chances are, with a low cost loan. No other type of financial institution can do as much for you financially.

That's why you'll be dollars ahead if you start doing business with our Full Service commercial bank now.

punt by Nick Long who turned it into a touchdown, fine offensive blocking by Andy Kuley, Long, and Jim McKeever and clutch defensive play. Although he didn't figure in the scoring, fullback Bill Aiken penetrated the Trenton middle line and again for sizeable gains. On several occasions, Bill produced a fine "second effort."

Trenton, meanwhile, almost took a page from a familiar book when it threatened to grab the game away in the final seconds. Almost — but not quite.

With just minutes left, the Tornadoes started from their own 20 and passed and ran their way for five first downs and 66 yards. With 48 seconds remaining, THS had the ball on the Blue and White 17 first and ten. The memory of the year before when Trenton had defeated PHIS 3-0 in the last play of the game flashed before team members on the bench, the coaches crouched on the sidelines and the Little Tiger followers screaming in the stands. The tension was overpowering.

It was all over in 25 seconds. That was all the time it took for Trenton to try four passes. All four failed.

The turning point of the hard-fought contest came with dramatic suddenness. In the final period, tackle Nick Long ripped through the Tornado defense and blocked a punt. Never breaking his stride, Long fielded the ball on one bounce and raced unmolested to the goal line 30 yards away.

Wood said that pictures of the game revealed that as the Trenton player centered the ball, Long had passed him ev-on before he had a chance to raise his head. Long's fine play thus nullified Trenton's only score. It had come moments before when the home team combined a 50-yard run off tackle — the game's longest — and a 25 yard scoring pass.

Slow Start. The first half was an evenly matched battle — PHIS 63 yards total offense; THS, 74 — with neither team threatening. The Little Tigers came closest when Pete Webber recovered a Trenton fumble on the THS 20 on the 12th play from scrimmage. On the next play, Walstad drove to the 14 only to be thrown for a nine-yard loss on the following play. PHIS then lost the ball on downs.

Walstad got the Little Tigers off winging at the start of the second half, however, when he ran the kickoff back to the THS 43. With Walstad and Aiken doing the hugging, the visitors moved to the Trenton seven, first and ten. Hope dimmed when Aiken was thrown for an eight-yard loss on third down.

But PHIS was not to be denied. Walstad hit Bill Bartolino with a running pass and Bartolino carried it in from two yards out. Only 58" and 137 pounds, Bartolino, filling in for Rich Womacka, was 137 pounds of unrestrained happiness.

After Trenton had shifted into a virtual nine-man line and PHIS found it could not turn its ends, it switched its attention to the supposedly dent-proof THS interior line. The result was eye-opening. Anthony Arvora, a sophomore replacing the injured Sam Stewart, Jeff Lowe and Jim McKeever did "a terrific job blocking," Wood said.

Like A Snow Plow. According to Wood, game films reveal that the trio "looked like a snow plow, literally" the way they cut down the opposing linemen. "They gave Aiken his first opening," said Wood and "once Billy got through, he bowled along on several occasions for good yardage."

The Little Tigers even used psychology on their opponents. One half of the players' helmets was painted, 3-0? a barb referring to last year's tainted THS victory. Tainted as far as the Little Tigers were concerned. Now those question marks have been erased.

Thirty Years Ago . . .

Princeton's ability to shut out three of its first four opponents in 1963 prompted a look into the records to determine when that sort of achievement was last matched.

The answer: not since 1933 have the Tigers been slinder in their first four games. That season, actually, they blanked not only their first four but their first seven, Rutgers finally hanging six points on the scoreboard in the eighth game on the schedule — which Princeton won, 26-6.

The 1963 Tigers have this on their side: whereas their achievement has been recorded against Rutgers, Penn and Colgate, three of the first four teams played 30 years ago were typical "brethren." Amherst, Williams and Washington and Lee. To the 1933 Tigers' credit early that year was the 20-10-0 whitewash of Columbia's Rose Bowl-bound eleven.

hall team this week can cry with a high degree of assurance—"This time for sure."

For Hun, it is now or never Friday, the Red and Black travelers to Philadelphia to take on winless Friends Central—its only Friday contest of the season. The game, a Pennsylvania League contest, will start at 3.

If one can trust past performances, Friends Central should offer little in the way of resistance to Hun. Last week, it dropped its third in a row and the victory was George School's first.

Hun coach Hawley Waterman reported he was optimistic over the outcome. He added that he was encouraged by the fact that, ironic as it may seem, the team has performed better each succeeding week. There has been no loss in morale among the players, according to Waterman.

Time brought an end to a sustained drive that would have powered Hun to a come-from-behind victory Saturday over Solebury. As a result, a third Solebury eleven managed to salvage a 23-22 victory over Hun before many approving home town spectators.

For once Hun started strong. It took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards to score. Key plays were a 20-yard gallop by Scott Page and a 30-yard aerial strike from Mark Savidge to Page. Page capped the drive with a ten-yard run.

Solebury Retaliates. Hun's lead was short-lived, however. On its first play from scrimmage, following the return kickoff, Solebury's Bryant Mitchell circled left end and

Johnny Cook to Try Out for Olympic Hockey Team

When the winter games of the 1964 Olympics take place at Innsbruck, Austria, next January, Princetonians may have more than a passing interest in the fortunes of the American hockey team. There's a possibility that Johnny Cook, holder of the University's all-time scoring record and three-time All-Ivy forward, may be wearing a uniform with a Stars and Stripes emblem.

Cook, whose Princeton career ended with graduation last June after he had racked up an unprecedented career total of 132 points, will head for Boston to take part in the Olympic tryouts starting there on Monday. Eddie Jeremiah, Dartmouth coach who has been given leave of absence for the year, will direct the U.S. team.

The chances of any given player making the 20-man squad that is finally selected to represent this country are about 5 to 1. That is, about 100 candidates will be given tryouts initially and 20 will eventually be named to go to Innsbruck.

Some 50 players have been invited to report to the eastern tryouts in Boston. After ten days of practice and actual games, 15 of them will be chosen to go to South St. Paul, Minn.

The western players will have been tried and eliminated in similar fashion there. Of the 30 gathering for the final tryouts, the top 20 will be selected.

Cook hopes to be one of a dozen forwards, constituting four lines, to play for this country. Six defensemen and two goalies will round out the squad, which will be defending the championship the U.S. won at Squaw Valley, Calif., in 1960.

A Kingston resident whose older brother preceded him in the Baker Rink hockey picture and whose younger brother is about to start his varsity career, Johnny is an Exeter and PCHD alumnus. He is the third Princeton area resident to try for Olympic status, David Outerbridge and Larry Rulon-Miller having taken a shot at it four years ago. He may just be the first to make it.

raced 56 yards to tie it up. Mitchell is the leading scorer in the Penn-Jersey League with nine TD's to his credit.

Then Hun really dug itself into a hole when it fumbled the return kickoff on its own 30. The home team capitalized on the miscue and before the game was five minutes old, Hun was trailing, 16-6.

In the second half, Hun dominated play. Lonnie Kaplan narrowed the gap with a sparkling 75-yard return of a Solisbury kickoff in the third quarter. In the final quarter, Bill Worthington set up Hun for its third tally when he recovered a Solisbury fumble on the 42-yard line. Minutes later, with time the chief factor, Hun started its last-ditch drive, marching relentlessly from its own two yard stripe to the Solisbury 40. But time ran out.

A total of 70 yards in penalties—most of them coming at crucial times—hurt the Red and Black. Foremost was a clipping penalty that nullified a 70-yard touchdown run of a Solisbury kickoff by Chuck Sellen in the first period.

To pick up the slack of an injury-plagued Hun backfield, two Hun guards found themselves in the unfamiliar position of carrying the ball. Bill Monroe adapted to the switch in fine fashion, scoring Hun's third TD from eight yards out. Fred Welher, a sophomore, was the other guard-halfback.

MERCERSBURG NEXT

For Lawrenceville, Lawrenceville's football team successfully passed the half-way point of its current season last week and will play Mercersburg Academy Saturday, with three games remaining on the schedule.

The Larries spread their touchdown scoring among five players and easily defeated Peddie, 33-0. Tallying in each period, the home team registered its first touchdown on a 57-yard pass play from Bob Madden to Jim Hahn and scored twice in the second quarter to lead 18-0 at the half.

Roth second period TD's resulted from breaks—a blocked punt and fumble. Larry Tondel recovered the blocked punt in the end zone and Clint Frank scored on a seven-yard run following Ken Miller's recovery of the fumble on the Peddie 30.

Ron Prout excelled for the losers, gaining 77 yards rushing and catching seven passes for 30 yards. Warren Moore accounted for the fourth Larry TD and Gil Norton went over from the eight to complete the scoring in the fourth period.

The Larries are now 3-1 on the season. They have yet to play Choate and Hill in addition to Mercersburg.

BOWLING NOTES

Three-Way Tie for Firemen. Kingston and Dutch Neck picked up two victories apiece last week and moved into a three-way deadlock for first place in the Tri-County Firemen's League with Rocky Hill.

Hook and Ladder L and Kingston Fire Department were tied for second, two points behind the leaders, with 24 points. Bill Whatley was high scorer with a 214-161-204-579 series. Jack Maple bowled a 202 game and George Kirby 200.

Jugtown Delicatessen and Kase Kleaters, each with 26 points, were tied for the "B" League lead. Trailing by two points was Key Shop and by four points Maul Electric, Ivy Inn, Nini Plumbing and Bal-estrieri.

Jerry Perpetua had the single-game high with a 237 score. Trailing him were Dave Cicelli and Joe Baldino, 224 each.

Cory S. Kammler

After reading an earlier column on the p u n i s h m e n t s of the dark ages, another friend reminded us that it is mostly in western civilization where discipline has been modified; that severe penalties are still commonplace (even for minor offenses) behind the iron curtain. He said he too could cite an example of perhaps a not too well known torture from the dark ages that might interest our readers. It seems that during the reign of Henry VIII (1509-1547) he invented this one (among others): The penalty specified for a seaman guilty of sleeping on watch for a fourth time: "Tie him under the bowsprit of the ship, give him a biscuit, a can of beer, and a knife, so that he can make the interesting choice of starving to death or of cutting his bonds and falling into the sea." Not much of a choice . . . but to go from the ridiculous to the sublime, what a choice of fine cars you can have right here right now! And what values! SKI SEASON TO OPEN

With Autumn Party. The Princeton Ski Club will begin its season activities with an autumn party Wednesday at 8 in the Pine Brae Club on Route 518.

There will be an admission fee of $1.50 to cover the costs of refreshments, which will include beer and cider. Prospective members have been invited to attend the party.

Regular club meetings will be held alternate Wednesdays at 8 beginning on November 13. There will be guest speakers and ski films at the meetings and plans will be made for winter outings to resort areas.

TWO FLIGHTS FINISH

In Springdale Tournament. Winners of the second and fourth flights in the annual men's championship at Springdale Golf Club are John Becker and Bill Wallace. In the second flight, Becker defeated Gaury Mather, 3 and 2, in the finals, and in the fourth flight, Wallace beat Ollie Houghton, 4 and 2.

In the finals of the fifth flight, Ed Conlin will meet Glen Miller. Bergie Bergesen will play Bob McCarthy to determine the winner of the sixth flight.

The final luncheon for women members of Springdale was held last week at the Princeton Inn. Mrs. William L. Wilson, chairman, presided at the meeting, which included the election of officers for 1964 and the awarding of prizes. Mrs. Alan C. Poole was elected chairman of the women's golf committee for the coming year, and Mrs. John H. Houghton was named assistant chairman.

THEY'LL DUEL IN STADIUM SATURDAY: Charlie (left) and Pete Gogolak, the nation's best college placekickers, will face each other Saturday when Princeton meets Cornell in Palmer Stadium. The Hungarian-born brothers are shown here practicing with a soccer ball, perfecting the "instep kick" which enables them to boot placements with extreme accuracy. Field goals from 35 to 40 yards out may be a part of Saturday's game. For the record, Charlie is a Princeton sophomore, Pete, a Cornell senior.

Jersey will hold its 10th annual scholarship ball Saturday, November 2. Proceeds from the dance will finance needy students in the area who plan to attend Vassar College.

The ball will be held at Miss Fine's School and a crowd of 400 to 500 is expected to attend. Music will be provided by Ben Cutler and his band with decorations planned along a "Garden of Eden" theme.

Began in 1954, the dance has been the club's annual benefit program ever since. Thousands of dollars have been raised for scholarship students.

Before 1954, the area Vassar alumnae held events ranging from a record sale to benefit theatre performances. The club presented the Blue Hill Troupe at McCarter Theatre from 1948-51.

Mrs. Felton Gibbons is the chairman of the committee in charge of the dance. She is assisted by Mrs. Amasa S. Bishop, Mrs. Graham M. Brush Jr., Mrs. A. Peter Carler, Mrs. K. "I WON'T DANCE"

But Games, Yes! Shift-kneed, must-palmed young gentlemen will no longer be forced by social pressure, i.e., girls to dance at those seventh-and-eighth-grade Valley Road parties.

From now on, Superintendent John McKenna told the Township School Board Thursday night, junior high parties will offer fun and games, not just dancing. To give more boys and girls a chance to participate.

A meeting of Student Council representatives — David Hogenauer, Student Council sponsor, the PTA president, John Wolfkell, principal and Dr. McKenna, resulted in this policy decision, the superintendent told the Board.

Student Council promised that students would make all the arrangements and would plan parties with a strict schedule to allow no idle moments.

"It gives boys and girls a chance to learn social graces on the field of battle," was Dr. McKenna's comment on the need for a junior high social program.

The Board also heard an old story Township students keep going right off the scale on testing programs. Example: The Township's median was in the 93-99 percentile band on the STEP Mathematics Test for fourth graders, and its top third in the 99-100 percentile, or off the map altogether.

As a result of a brief newspaper announcement, 30 housewives with B.A. degrees have signed up with the Township as substitute teachers... as of October 1, there were 2,745 Township scholars, including 620 enrolled in the high school... the annual audit by C. Bergen Groendyke was accepted by the board, and Acting Chairman A. Robert Trudel commended board secretary Norman Anderson for his work.

DOLLARS FOR "YES"

Employment Group's Budget. The Youth Employment Service has asked the Princeton community for help in achieving its budget of $1,479.

Mrs. Rowan Boone, president of YES, said this week that the amount would cover telephone, advertising and office supplies for the coming year. The office, in Dorothea House, is rent-free, all workers are volunteers and there is no charge for YES services.

The agency registered 673 young people from September, 1962 to September, 1963, and received 1,099 job orders during that time, Mrs. Boone said.

"Our primary purpose is to help young people get job experience and learn job responsibility," Mrs. Boone said. "As a means of doing this, we provide a service to businessmen and homeowners who are in need of the kind of assistance offered by young workers."

YES is supported financially by contributions from service clubs, employers, parents and interested members of the community. Contributions are tax deductible. They should be sent to YES, 120 John Street.

15 ACRES—GOOD HOUSE—$39,900

For land lovers (the property rolls back by a farm pond to woods & stream) or developers (1 1/2 acre zoned, nice residential area on outskirts of Princeton) this is a rare bargain (a rare word in local real estate). The 7 room stone front ranch house is solid as rock, has huge rooms (basement is a potential bowling alley!) and can be charmed up by tasteful owners, practically expanded by prolific ones.

Are You A Tire Kicker?

A Tire Kicker, in the parlance of the auto dealer, is the prospect who kicks the tires in an attempt to evaluate the auto's worth. The next step is to jump up and down on the bumper to make sure the car bounces the right number of times. We don't have any tires to kick at Princeton Ridge . . . but we do have walls to knock, doors to close, and faucets to turn. We're especially proud of the materials in our homes . . . so by all means, come out, wall knocker and tire kickers. We have the walls — you bring the tires — via Route 206 north to Washington Street in Rocky Hill.

DON'T HIBERNATE THIS WINTER

So, summer's over. And you can't swim at the on-property pool. So what? There's still plenty of fun ahead without leaving home—at Princeton Windsor Apartments. You can hit elusive golf balls at the 18-hole course (it opens next spring...and will be right next door). Or knock down pins at the bowling center (it's next door)...Or see a first run movie (it's next door, too!) Or keep from falling down at the ice rink. (You guessed it; it's right next door, too.) Or you can smash tennis balls on the clay courts...socialize at the year-round clubhouse, ideal for informal entertainment. (You're wrong! They're not next door; they're right on the property...and "on the house.")

When you get tired of exercising, you can relax in an apartment that's huge, wide and handsomely equipped. It's complete with wall-wide closets, terrace, central air conditioning, dishwasher, two parking spaces.

FAR FROM TRAFFIC . . . yet close to school, this charming home has 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, living room with fireplace, family room (with powder room close by), wall-to-wall carpeting in dining alc. and on stairs. $31,950

SPACIOUS AND SUPERIOR . . . 4 double bedrooms, 3 full baths. Separate dining room. Center hall. Comfortable family room with French doors leading to terrace. In one of the Township's fine new neighborhoods. $47,500

HANDSOME TUDOR . . . what goes better with ivy in an Ivy town? Living room with fireplace, winterized porch, dining room, powder room. Second floor: 4 bedrooms, 1 bath. Third floor: 2 bedrooms, 1 bath. Here is a very pleasant, comfortable house for a large family. Large backyard, fine shrubbery. $38,000

FOR SALE . . . A WAY OF LIFE. If buying a new house means that you must count bedrooms and baths — well, perhaps, this place is not for you. Besides, it would be a shame to turn a bunch of kids loose in these gardens . . . they're too perfect and too well cared for. But if, now that you have achieved maturity, you yearn for a more civilized way of life in a few large beautiful rooms where your splendid antiques can show off as they absolutely should, this unique home, converted from an old stone stable, is for you. The living room is 18 x 28 and its vast stone fireplace will make Winter more than tolerable. Bedroom and bath were designed for you to live in luxury. The study (which can be another bedroom, or could be converted into 2 bedrooms and bath) has shelves for a lifetime's collection of books. On 1 1/2 acres in a secluded grouping of half a dozen lovely homes. $47,000

WE NOMINATE

Nathaniel Burt, author, composer and poet, who — on the threshold of his 50th birthday — has come forward with the highly stimulating and unusual social history which has caught the eyes of the nation's literary critics while sending Philadelphians sunning in neighborhood book-stores and stirring memories of the impact of Cleveland Ennis's eminently successful "The Proper Bostonians." The versatile, soft-spoken Burt is the creator of the newly published "The Perennial Philadelphians: The Anatomy of An American Aristocracy," a king-sized (625 pages) dissection of the "interesting, if sometimes stuffy genre" that has so long prevailed along the banks of the Schuylkill.

This pungent "Philadelphia story," touching lightly upon the links between Philadelphia's "Main Line" and Princeton University, marks the first time that Burt, the son of two widely known literary figures, Katherine Newland Burt and the late Maxwell Struthers Burt, has tied his hand at a major work of non-fiction. His success is reflected in the evaluation of a sharp-jointed, Philadelphia-born historian who feels: "Here is an honest book in which the author seeks to analyze and explain rather than to ridicule or condemn. He wants to show how and why the relatively small group of intermarried old families has maintained its vigor for so long and succeeded in dominating and controlling its city."

The range of Burt's abilities, which shine through his new publication's tightly drawn chapters, was never more dramatically underscored than it was some winters ago when within the space of days he scored triumphs in two areas of the arts, "The first public performance of his orchestral overture, "The Elegy of Lydidas," brought down the house in McCarter Theatre and the following weekend book sections gave blattering columns of attention to his excellent first novel, "Scotland's Burning," compared by some to "The Catcher in the Rye" and calmly described by Burt as a "novelty set in a boys' school."

This skillfully done novel, which led Burt to classify himself as a "writer" rather than a composer and teacher of music, had been preceded by two well-received volumes of verse and was followed by an unspectacular second work of fiction, "Alake Me Bed." Down through the 1950's, in addition to devoting six years to researching and writing "The Perennial Philadelphians," he wrote for major periodicals and, among other pieces, turned out one of the most intriguing chapters of Princetoniana ever produced: his essay on "Student Life" in the Nassau Hall of the 18th century.

A member of an old Philadelphia family, but born in Wyoming, Burt's early memories of Princeton include "starting the first grade at Miss Line's." He subsequently attended schools in North Carolina and Maryland and had decided — even before cutting Princeton in 1932 — music was for him. He studied in New York City, took a degree at New York University in 1939 and a decade later, while teaching here at the University as well as at the Westminster Choir College, was awarded his Master of Fine Arts in Music. In the interim he had earned three battle stars in the Pacific as a "line officer" with the World War II Navy and had started writing as a complement to music or, as he once said, as a "test from the other."

For adding a new dimension to his reputation as one of this community's most articulate creative artists; for carrying a distinguished family, and Princeton, literary tradition well into the second generation; for raising the hope that some time he turn his attention to "The Perennial Princetonians"; he is our nominee as
